Sharp Increase
Reported in War
Ground Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — The first wave of three B52 bombers to be based in Thailand arrived there today from Guam after dropping 180,000 pounds of bombs on a suspected Communist camp only 31 miles from Saigon.

Nine more B52s will move to Utopia Air Base, in southern Thailand, later this month, cutting their round trip time for raids on South Vietnam from 12 hours to less than three.

The U.S. Command reported a sharp increase in ground actions throughout Vietnam with 315 enemy killed Sunday. Included was a sharp barrage of recoilless rifle shells on the U.S. 25th Infantry Division headquarters at Cu Chi, about 25 miles northwest of Saigon. The predawn shelling, which killed three American soldiers and wounded 20, was the second in two days. The helicopter-borne U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division headquarters at An Khe was hit Sunday.

American pilots flew 96 missions over North Vietnam Sunday despite bad weather. All-weather jets hit the Thai Nguyen steel plant 35 miles from Hanoi and other raids struck anti-aircraft missile sites 30 miles from the Red capital.

Major Red Force
Heavy ground fighting raged 20 miles southwest of Saigon after U.S. 9th Division soldiers flushed a major force of Viet Cong guerrillas in a running two-day fight. Battlefields reports listed 166 Viet Cong dead from infantry, air and artillery pounding.

The battle erupted Sunday when a 9th Division sweeping force ran into skirmishes of a 750-man guerrilla battalion. Air strikes and artillery began pounding the Reds, who scattered with units of the 9th in pursuit. Heavy fighting was reported several times throughout Sunday night and this morning.

Continuing the sweep in the muddy delta paddies, the 9th Division reported it was again in heavy contact this afternoon, with jet strikes and artillery again pouring in.

16 Wounded
Initial battle reports from the 9th listed 16 U.S. infantrymen wounded in the battle.

Opening Hinted for U.S.-Latin Markets

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — The United States, besieged by clamor for bigger Latin shares of U.S. markets, left the door open a crack today, with the hint that President Johnson may offer this gift at the summit.

While refusing to open a special door through U.S. trade barriers, Secretary of State Dean Rusk did agree after 11 hours of bargaining in a presumptive conference to permit Alliance for Progress dollars to be spent outside the United States.

Rusk insisted to his tired colleagues, however, that this could be done only "to the maximum extent consistent with the balance of payment position of the capital exporting countries."

Protective Wall

The possibility that President Johnson might breach the protective wall around U.S. markets for the Latin Americans could be read between the words of U.S. official sources.

One such top source two days ago said in answer to a reporter's question about Latin trade preference "I don't think I ought to scoop the President."

Zuelke Bldg. Changes Hands

Six area businessmen, members of the new Plaza Corp., have purchased the Irving Zuelke Building, 103 W. College Ave., Appleton, for an undisclosed sum, according to Norman W. Hall, president of the Norman W. Hall Co., Inc., Appleton realty firm.

The purchase agreement was signed Saturday, Hall said. The building formerly was owned and managed by the Irving Zuelke Building Inc.

Hall and Frank Gutreuter, vice president of the realty firm, said they would assume management of the structure immediately. The Hall company acted as rental agency for the building's tenants for the past 18 months.

They said the sale would be carried out without interruption of the building's operations or services. Plaza Corp. officers are Dr. Herman C. Schmalleberg, New London, president; Jack G. Temmer, Appleton, vice president; Gutreuter, secretary, and Hall, treasurer.

"The new owners and management plan to keep pace with general improvement and upgrading of the downtown area," Hall said. "We have great confidence in the growth and development of Appleton and particularly the downtown area."

Hall said, "The building itself is a very sound structure and lends itself very well to providing modern facilities for its tenants. With the new Soldiers Square parking ramp," he continued, "the former parking problem will certainly be alleviated, not only for this building but for all downtown businesses."

Officials of the realty firm said the ground floor would continue as a retail sales area. Approximately 20 persons are employed as engineers, elevator operators or maintenance personnel. Miss Florette Zuelke took over management of the building in August, 1964, from Mrs. Lola May Zuelke Eich. Mrs. Eich was manager from 1963 to 1964, succeeding Mrs. Cordell Zuelke Gallagher, who managed the building from 1953 to 1963. The women are daughters of the late Irving Zuelke, who died in 1953. Zuelke's widow lives at 600 River Road.

Finished in 1931

The first seven stories of the building were completed in 1931 by Zuelke, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Zuelke, Hortonville. Zuelke was born in Hortonville and moved to Appleton in 1913 to establish a music business on College Avenue.

A spectacular fire in 1928 destroyed the music store on present Zuelke Building site. Construction on the new building began May 12, 1929 and was completed two years later.

Five floors were added in 1951, bringing the building to its 12-story height.

Hall indicated the building would "keep pace" with modernization of the city's downtown area. "We are desirous of maintaining the building as one of the most attractive buildings in Appleton," he said.

No plans were announced for any immediate remodeling or modernizing of the building.

Marathon County Crash Kills Four

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Four persons were killed Sunday in a head-on crash at the crest of a Marathon County hill on State 107 about 20 miles northwest of Wausau and a fifth died early today after a crash in Dodge County.

Sgt. William Schuett of the Marathon sheriff's department said the victims were Gustave Munkwitz, 68, rural Elcho, his wife, Katherine, 55, his brother Herman Munkwitz, 68 of Edgar, and Donald Duwe, 18, rural Hamburg.

Schuett said Gustave Munkwitz was the driver of one of the autos and Duwe was alone in the other. Herman Munkwitz was pronounced dead on the scene — near the village of Little Chicago.

The man who died today in a Hartford hospital shortly after his car collided with another car in the Village of Neosho, Dodge County, was not immediately identified.

Mediators Reach Radio-TV Accord

Union Vote Due Today On Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators reached tentative settlement today in the nation's first radio and television strike that put celebrities on picket lines and programming on a schedule of old films and reruns. The strike began March 29.

Terms of the agreement between the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists and ABC, CBS and NBC were not revealed pending a union vote, but shirt-sleeved bargainers laughed and shook hands as the settlement was announced at 6 a.m. today after a session that began at 11 a.m. Sunday.

Pickets still walked outside NBC at Rockefeller Center in New York City, however, and mediators would not say if the lines would be withdrawn. "The strike is still on," one picket said.

The 5 p.m. meeting here will involve members of the eastern section of the union's three-part national board. Midwest and west coast sections also were to meet, in Chicago and Los Angeles.

A spokesman said it might take two days to get approval from the rank and file, but it was possible that pickets could be recalled — clearing the way for telecasting the academy award show — if the national board units recommend acceptance.

One immediate question was whether Hollywood's Motion Picture Academy award show would be televised by ABC tonight. It was scheduled for 10 p.m., EST, and the network said after the tentative settlement was announced that it was "fully rehearsed" and prepared to present the performance "once the go-ahead signal is given by AFTRA."

Meeting Today
A union official said strikers had been called to a meeting at 5 p.m., EST, presumably to vote on ratifying the settlement.

"The picket line will remain in effect until the vote is taken," the official said.

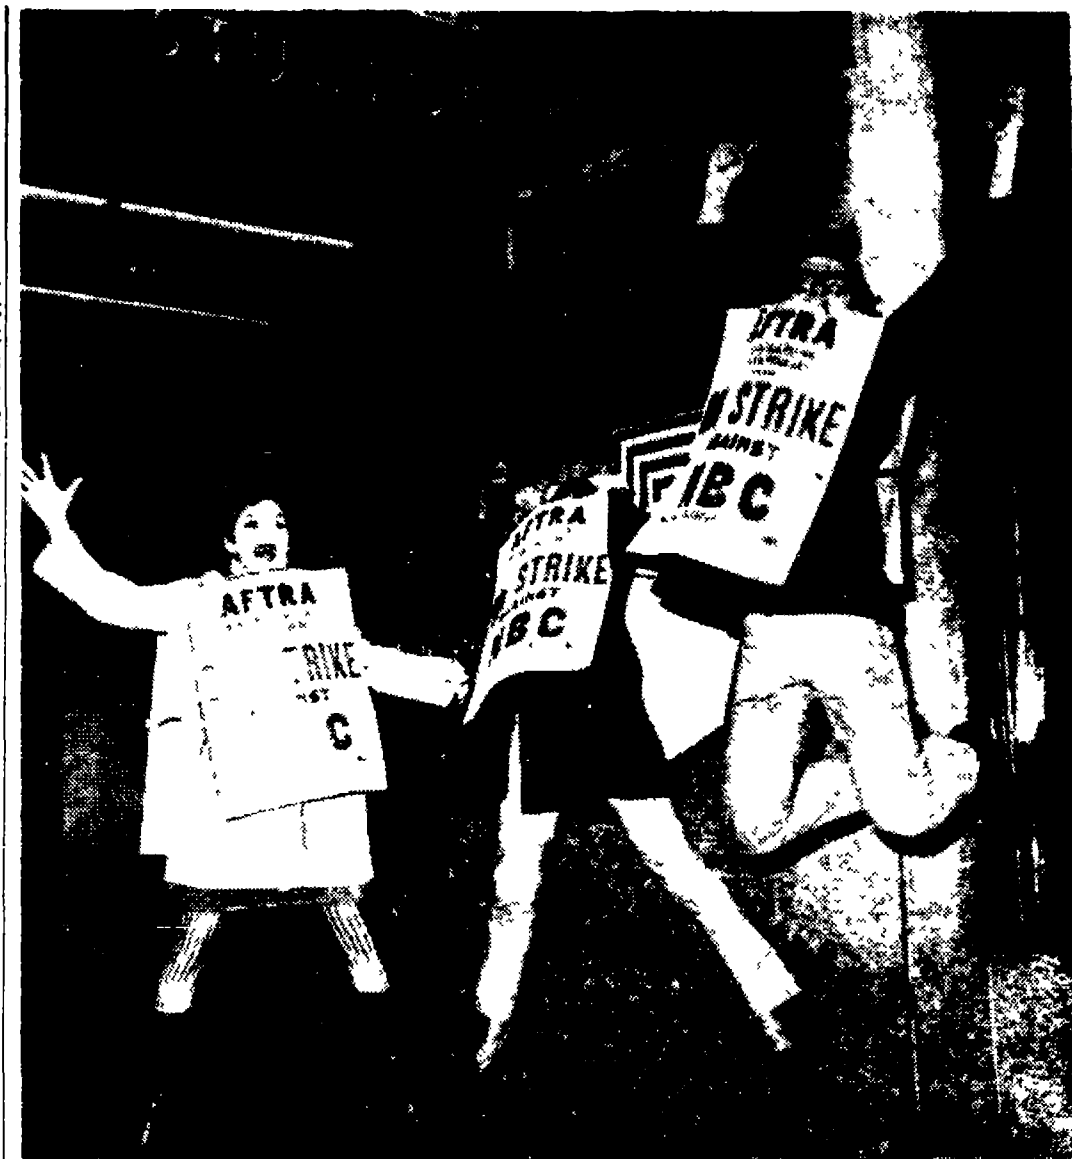

Observers said a break in the talks came at 3 a.m. when the parties met jointly with federal mediator Ralph C. Patterson. They talked for an hour and 20 minutes then separated with a network spokesman, announcing "The union people will call us when they want us."

Canned Shows
Both sides joined the mediators again at 5:30 a.m. and within 30 minutes the settlement was announced. Said Patterson "Following almost 24 hours of

4 North Koreans Killed in Clash

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korean army patrols shot and killed four North Koreans in two gun fights on the western front today, army headquarters announced.

Both border clashes occurred within 20 miles of the gunfight last Wednesday in which U.S. 2nd Infantry Division troops killed at least four North Koreans, an army spokesman said. There was no immediate report of any South Korean casualties in the incidents today.

Pickets on Duty at the National Broadcasting Co. headquarters in New York City jump with enthusiasm when they hear of a tentative settlement of the 13-day strike of broadcast performers this morning. The end of the strike

Labor Dispute Closes Doors

Valley Braces for Impact of Nationwide Trucker Lockout

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The highly industrialized Fox Valley — one of Wisconsin's major over-the-road transportation hubs — braced today for the impact of a nationwide lockout of truck drivers.

Hundreds of trucking firms embroiled in a labor dispute with the Teamsters Union closed their doors coast-to-coast and vowed not to let a single cross-country truck on the road today.

Predictions were it might take about a week before the full effects would show up.

Industries and major retail outlets throughout the Valley will be hardest hit if the shutdown is of any duration. About 1,500 union drivers from Fond du Lac to Green Bay reported for work this morning but were told to go home.

Robert Schlieve, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 563, said more than 500 drivers in the Fox Cities were idled.

All Shut Down

Thomas J. Duffey, general manager of the Wisconsin Motor Carrier Labor Advisory Council, said all of the council's 70 members were shut down, estimating they normally handle about 75 per cent of the cross-state and interstate business in Wisconsin.

Roy C. Lane, president of Teamsters Local 200 in Milwaukee, the state's largest local, said he thought about 4,500 of Wisconsin's 8,000 teamsters were locked out.

Lane said about 65 firms would lock out workers in the state, but another 40 independent firms would continue operating.

Among the major firms with terminals in the Fox Valley participating in the National Trucking Employees, Inc., lockout were Consolidated Freightways, Menlo Park, Calif.; Olson

Transportation, Green Bay; Gateway Transportation, La Crosse; Central Wisconsin Transport, Wisconsin Rapids, and Spector Freight Systems, Inc., Green Bay.

The Appleton terminal manager for Fore Way Express Co., Inc., reported about 25 per cent of the drivers were at work today, adding that a good share of the firm's operations were down.

Praised by President

Humphrey Welcomed On Return From Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson welcomed Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey home today from a turbulent tour of Europe, and said Humphrey had told American allies there that "the ancient world of Asia" must share in the progress of the West.

Before government leaders arrayed on the south lawn of the White House, Johnson said Humphrey has been "the authentic voice of America in the council halls of our European allies."

He said Humphrey had told European leaders: "... America is still the daughter of Europe."

Johnson did not directly mention the war in Vietnam — which produced demonstrations that swirled in some European capitals during the Humphrey tour.

He said Humphrey had told European leaders "peace, like freedom, is indivisible," and that the nations of the West cannot hope to fulfill their dreams and ambitions until Asia has become a full and equal party in the forward movement of men.

"You have been more than America's spokesman," Johnson said. "You have also been America's eyes and ears."

Humphrey feels his two-week, seven-nation tour reassured European leaders that the United States is not turning its back on Europe despite its concerns in Asia.

Some observers believe he may urge President Johnson to make a similar trip. The vice president is understood to believe such visits improve personal relations between leaders who otherwise have to conduct their dealings through ambassadors and cables.

Shouting demonstrators threw things at him in Brussels, Rome, Florence, West Berlin and Paris but never hit him. The demonstrating groups were generally small.

Summing up before his departure from Brussels, Humphrey said:

"My visits here and to other Western European capitals have confirmed my belief that the enterprise and undertakings which unite Europe and the United States are of vastly greater importance than the minor differences which sometimes distract us."

Further Delay Likely for Space Program

Apollo Study Discloses 'Unbelievable' Flaws

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's man-to-the-moon program faced further delay today to allow time to overcome workmanship and management deficiencies revealed in a blue-ribbon board's final report on the spacecraft fire that killed three U.S. astronauts.

The eight-man board which spent seven weeks in an exhaustive investigation of the Apollo 1 tragedy said it uncovered "many deficiencies in design and engineering, manufacture and quality control."

Major Overhaul
The report recommended a major overhaul of Apollo spacecraft, including a quick-escape hatch, fewer combustible items inside the moonship, and a review of components in Apollo electrical, communications and life-support systems.

House and Senate Space Committee members said the National Aeronautics Space Administration and its contractors should take time to correct the flaws.

"These deficiencies must be catalogued and corrected and must not be repeated," said Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., chairman of the Senate Aeronautical and Space Sciences Committee.

Much 'Carelessness'
Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., whose subcommittee on NASA oversight begins its own Apollo 1 investigation today, said "there were all kinds of carelessness, and some of it was unbelievable."

The Apollo 1 board-of-review said in its final report released Sunday that a bruised or broken wire most likely sparked the blaze that killed Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee in a launch pad test Jan. 27.

While "no single ignition source could be conclusively identified," the report said the probable cause was either an electrical arc or short circuit in "DC (direct current) wiring... providing power to environmental control system instrumentation."

An electrical arc is a band of sparks between two closely placed electrical sources, such as open ends of a broken or bruised wire.

Beneath Couch
In its 3,000-page final report, the board said the fire is believed to have started in the left-hand equipment bay, beneath Grissom's couch, where the suspected wiring was located.

The board, headed by Dr. Floyd L. Thompson of NASA's Langley Research Center, said it found numerous examples of spacecraft wiring which had been poorly designed and installed in Apollo 1.

The board released a picture showing a wrench socket that had been inadvertently left wedged among several cables in the area where the fire is believed to have started. The board did not link the socket to the blaze, however.

It also said no evidence was discovered that suggested sabotage.

"Deficiencies in design, manufacture, installation, rework and quality control existed in the electrical wiring," the board said.

Components in the life-supporting environmental control system — which provided the astronauts with oxygen — "had a history of many removals and of technical difficulties," the board observed.

Deficiencies in these spacecraft systems "created a hazardous condition and their continuation would imperil any future Apollo operations," the report stated.

Conditions cited by the board which contributed to the fire included a sealed cabin pressurized with 100 per cent oxygen, extensive distribution of combustible materials, vulnerable wiring carrying spacecraft power, and vulnerable plumbing carrying a combustible and corrosive coolant.

The board also cited inad-

Negroes End 2-Day Nashville Turmoil

Gunfire, Looting Mark City After Carmichael Talk

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A light rain and sunlight brought an apparent end early today to Nashville's second straight night of racial violence in the city's Negro college section.

Gunshots, fires and looting erupted overnight, continuing into the early hours this morning — and left one student seriously wounded. But the dawn — coupled with so many arrests that police officials said they were uncertain early today of the number — apparently brought the strife to an end.

Police charged two Negroes with inciting a riot. They were identified, as George Washington Ware, 26, of Atlanta and Ernest Stephens, 25, of Tuskegee, Ala., and were held under $2,500 bond each early today.

SNCC Worker
Ware told police he was with "black power" advocate Stokely Carmichael here Saturday. Stephens said he was a worker for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, headed by Carmichael.

The charges stemmed from riots which erupted Saturday night — a few hours after Carmichael spoke at a symposium at predominantly white Vanderbilt University. The violence was triggered when police ejected a Negro from a Negro tavern at the owner's request. Police said Carmichael was not seen in the area of the rioting.

One Negro college student was shot in the neck Sunday night and hospitalized as Negro rioters fired at police, stoned passing cars and roamed the streets between the campuses of predominantly Negro Fisk and Tennessee State universities a mile apart.

50 Arrested
In two nights of violence, at least 50 persons were arrested. Most charges ranged from disorderly conduct to unauthorized possession and transportation of explosives. Four white men arrested had a shotgun and a pistol in their possession. Police arrested six men and a woman at a house where officers said they found some Molotov cocktails.

Three businesses, one owned by a white man, were set afire by Molotov cocktails, police said, and one vacant house and several trucks caught fire. Rocks were thrown at fire engines en route to the blazes, which were extinguished quickly.

At a food store, several Negroes fled under a hail of police bullets after a window was broken.

Hospitals reported many persons injured by rocks and bottles thrown from behind bushes, trees and stone walls.

Helmets riot police patrolled the area during the night and at the Tennessee State campus, where officers attempted to disperse a growing crowd, shots rang out for 20 minutes.

Police said the shooting began when they fired into the air as a warning. Officers said the gunfire was returned from the campus and bullets struck a rock wall behind which police had taken cover.

River City Ready for Flood

Prairie du Chien Sure Lessons Learned in '65 Will be Effective

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two years ago, when Prairie du Chien was waiting for a record Mississippi flood crest to hit, Mayor Edward Farrell was on the job around the clock conducting frantic emergency operations.

Sunday, Farrell played tennis. "We're set for it this time," Farrell explained. "We learned a lot from the 1965 floods."

Prairie du Chien has braced itself well for the second highest crest in the city's history. The Mississippi is expected to crest Tuesday at 21.3 feet. Flood stage is 18 feet.

The river reading Sunday was 20.4 feet.

Some 130 families have been evacuated and major dikes have been built.

"The crest is coming and we've done all we can," said Farrell.

Prairie du Chien is ready. Elsewhere, the Mississippi and its flooding tributaries are receding slowly.

Oldest U. S. Worker Dies In America

MADISON (AP) — Funeral services will be held here Tuesday for Carl A. (Doc) Swenson, who two years ago was nicknamed "America's oldest worker" by a national magazine.

Swenson died at a Madison hospital Sunday following a year's illness. He was 101 years old.

He retired at 100 from his job as a delivery department foreman at the Ray-O-Vac Battery Co. here.

Swenson gained national attention in 1965 when Look Magazine called him "America's oldest worker."

Swenson, a native of Sweden, joined the firm at the age of 51 and was already too old to qualify for the company's pension program when it was started in 1940.

So, the company promised Swenson that he would have a job there as long as he wanted to work and could work. He missed only 1½ days of work in his 49 years with the firm. He began working only half days — at the company's request — when he turned 90. The company gave him a new car for his 90th birthday.

Swenson lived three blocks from work and maintained his own garden until he became ill a year ago.

Anne Morrison Chapin, Writer, Actress Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Anne Morrison Chapin, actress, playwright and screen writer, died in her West Hollywood home Friday after a long illness. She made her Broadway debut as an actress in 1918. Between 1923 and 1934 she wrote "The Wild Westcotts," "Pugs," "Jonsey" and "No Questions Asked." She followed this with a 14-year career as a Hollywood film writer.

State Tries to Secure Case Against Speck

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — The state is putting the finishing touches on its attempt to show that Richard Speck is the intruder who slew eight student nurses, then sought refuge in the honky-tonk saloons and flophouses of Chicago's near North Side.

The 25-year-old drifter is charged with the knife and strangulation murder of the eight in their South Side townhouse July 14.

The prosecution was expected to call a woman hotel employee in its attempt to reconstruct the seven men and five women jurors hearing Speck's trial a precise account of the defendant's flight. She was expected to testify that Speck registered under a false name in a hotel.

The state may close its case by Wednesday. After that, the defense calls its witnesses including members of Speck's family.

Stiffening of Citizens Band License Criteria Considered to Ease Chaos

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission, concerned over "chaotic conditions" in the field of Citizens Band radio, is considering a crackdown, it was learned today.

New regulations that might make it tougher to obtain a Citizens Band license are being weighed.

There are more than 750,000 licensees in the Citizens Radio Service and they have about 2.6 million transmitters, making it the largest radio service under FCC jurisdiction.

It also is one of the toughest to control. Last year, the FCC issued 4,500 violation notices and instituted more than 350 proceedings to revoke CB licenses — up 75 per cent from 1965. More than 250 licensees were notified they were to be fined — up 25 per cent from the previous year.

'Traitor' Charges Leveled Against Liu by Mao Forces

By EUGENE LEVIN
TOKYO (AP) — Mao Tse-tung's forces, reportedly bolstered by a 6-5 endorsement in the Chinese Communist Party's policy making body, stepped up its attacks on President Liu Shao-chi today. It accused him of "eight serious crimes" and charged he was a "traitor."

The new attacks against Liu, already denounced as a counter-revolutionary, indicated Mao may be preparing a criminal action against the 68-year-old chief of state.

Correspondents in Peking for the Japanese newspaper Yomiuri and the Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported that the standing committee of the Political Bureau of the party Central Committee had voted 6-5 to back Mao in his struggle to wrest the party and government machinery from Liu and his supporters.

If this information is correct, it could explain the sudden explosion of open attacks against Liu. It could also mean that Premier Chou En-lai, the reputed mediator in China's strife, has swung all the way over to Mao's side.

The New China News Agency told of a Peking rally against Liu and said one of the speakers reported that in 1964 "he had charged the number one party person in authority taking the capitalist road (Liu) with eight serious crimes but had been brutally persecuted by the tiny handful of party persons in authority taking the capitalist road."

The eight crimes were not explained. The attacks on Liu by official Mao press organs started in the last week of March although he had been under fire in unofficial Red Guard newspapers and posters for months.

Military Postpones Picking Candidate

New South Vietnamese Election Laws Expected by Early May

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's military rulers are expected to put off announcement of their candidate for president until new election laws are written late this month or early in May.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky has said he and Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu are the only possible military candidates and observers believe Ky is the favorite. Two civilians already have announced their candidacy.

Presidential balloting is scheduled Sept. 1 under the new constitution framed by the 117-member Constituent Assembly to return Vietnam to civilian rule. The assembly began meeting on the election laws Thursday but was sidetracked by a demand by militant Roman Catholics that a reference to a "Supreme Being" be restored to the final version of the constitution's preamble.

The assembly issued a statement today affirming the constitution's "religious basis" and expressing the assembly's "deep concern to the Supreme Being of all religions." The statement was offered as a compromise by Chairman Phan Khac Suu, who said it was too late to amend the constitution.

Small Support
Only 38 of 81 assemblymen present voted for the statement. The others abstained and several said it should be debated further.

After several more hours of debate, the assemblymen decided to reword their statement. Fifty-one of the 81 then present voted to substitute "most sacred being" for "Supreme Being."

Thieu, 43, was admitted to a hospital today with suspected appendicitis, government sources said. Hospital spokesmen declined to comment on his condition.

Election officials said despite Viet Cong terrorism, voting for councilmen in 256 villages Sunday ran slightly ahead of the 80 per cent voter turnout in the first round of village balloting a week earlier. One candidate was reported killed, two were kidnapped, and a polling place was hit by mortars.

About 15,000 local government posts are to be filled in five Sundays of voting this month and five more starting May 14.

City's Raw Water Is Below Standards

Heavy Chemical Treatment Makes Appleton's Supply Safe, Though

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Official records of the State Board of Health show that since Jan. 1, 1962 the raw water supply Appleton derives from the polluted Fox River is far below proposed standards for public consumption.

However, after heavy chemical treatment it has been meeting quality control requirements and does not pose a health threat, according to Dr. William Gallaher, Water Works Director.

Aimed at answering critics of the proposed Lake Winnebago pipeline project, including some who claim the city should merely expand its treatment plant and continue to dip into the river, Dr. Gallaher released figures on water tests made in Appleton and Neenah over the past five-year period.

Neenah, which obtains its municipal water supply from Lake Winnebago, receives water at its lake intake point which exceeds standards.

Dr. Gallaher indicated raw water taken from Lake Winnebago by Neenah has far less bacteria count than that derived by Appleton from the Fox River.

He listed a summary of the raw water coliform index (a way of measuring bacteria) for Appleton and Neenah, based on results of sample tests filed with the Board of Health.

Water Standards

The Department of Resource Development proposed bacteriological standards for sources of water supply for public consumption stipulate that:

—The source of drinking water should not have an average monthly MPN (most probable number of coliforms) exceeding 5,000/100 milliliters.

—Daily samples of the source of drinking water shall not have an MPN greater than 5,000/100 milliliters in more than 20 per cent of the samples taken.

—The daily samples of source of drinking water shall not have an MPN greater than 20,000-100 milliliters in more than 5 per cent of the samples taken.

Based on these standards, official records show there were 875 out of a possible 1,825 days in which the Appleton raw water intake fell far short of the proposed bacteriological standards.

Neenah had no days in which the raw Lake Winnebago water did not conform to standards.

It was disclosed 47.9 per cent of the daily samples taken of Fox River raw water intake had a greater coliform index than the proposed bacteriological standards for public consumption.

Not in Neenah

On the other hand again, Neenah had no samples which exceeded coliform limits.

Making a general analysis of the figures, Gallaher indicated that over the past five years the raw water taken from the Fox met state requirements about only 25 per cent of the time. Neenah conformed 100 per cent, the report shows.

"Neenah, which draws its water from the north end of Lake Winnebago near the head of the Fox River, easily satisfies the requirements as set forth by the Department of Resource Development," the report says.

"In fact, the average monthly MPN was zero for seven months out of the 60 months in question, or approximately 11 per cent of the time. At no time did Neenah's water source show an MPN greater than the proposed limits," it added.

Questioned as to what made the major difference in the quality of the raw water intake from Winnebago and the Fox, Dr. Gallaher said it was the type of pollution.

"When we talk about bacteriological counts, we are dealing directly with bacteria present in the water from warm blooded mammals," Dr. Gallaher declared.

Putting it more bluntly, he said the Fox River, in addition to other types of pollutants, has a heavy human waste contamination.

Dr. Gallaher cautioned that while Appleton has a serious water problem, municipal water treatment facilities have been capable of getting the coliform count down to 2 per 100 milliliters.

Still Safe

The U. S. Public Health Service says the treated water here is still safe.

"We have to give the water heavy treatment," Dr. Gallaher explained, "However, you never know when the equipment might break down."

In conjunction with its water expansion and improvement program, the city plans to put a $1.5 million addition on to the treatment plant so it can increase its daily volume of palatable water — for drinking, commercial and industrial use.

The city plans to move on the Winnebago pipeline and plant this summer, hoping to receive a $2.5 million federal grant.

Recently, Rep. John Byrnes (R-Green Bay) requested the regional office of the Housing and Urban Development Department (HUD) to okay Appleton's longstanding request. But there has been no word from HUD.

Sexual Behavior Is Church Study Topic

Chicago Man On Probation For Checks

Judge Orders Full Restitution Plus Extraditing Costs

A bad check spree in April and May of last year brought a 26-year-old Chicago man two years probation to the State Department of Public Welfare Friday.

Authorities said Larry C. Fuller cashed 27 checks totaling $625 in Appleton and Winnebago County. However, the Chicago man was charged with only two counts, issuing a $15 check April 22 at Slip's Bar, 500 W. College Ave., and a $20 check April 26 at Mid-City Beer Depot, 510 N. Oneida St. The checks ranged in amounts from $10 to $35 each.

Appleton checks totaled $515, while four in Winnebago County totaled $110.

Fuller had pleaded guilty of the counts last month and was in jail without bond until Friday afternoon awaiting results of a pre-sentence investigation.

Fuller, who had to be extradited from Illinois, told Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller he "started drinking" and "didn't keep track of the checks." Fuller had been in jail in Chicago and Appleton about three weeks.

Judge Keller, in granting probation, ordered Fuller to make $625 restitution for all the checks and pay $65.85 for the cost of getting him from Illinois.

Colloquium On Science At Lawrence

Mathematical matrices will be the subject of a Lawrence University science colloquium at 4:30 p.m. April 18 in room 161 of Youngchild Hall.

Dr. Andrew C. Berry, who holds the Henry Colman professorship in mathematics, will speak. His talk is entitled "On the Square Root of a Matrix."

Berry's presentation will show how matrices behave differently from numbers, and why. Subtitle to the talk is, "If Algebra Comes, Can Calculus be Far Behind?"

A member of the Lawrence science faculty since 1941, Berry earned bachelors, masters and doctoral degrees from Harvard University. He was a National Research Fellow in mathematics at Brown University, and also attended Princeton University.

Before coming to Lawrence he taught for 10 years in the department of mathematics at Columbia University.

Berry is listed in Who's Who in America, and American Men of Science, and is a member of the American Mathematical Society.

Europe Destination of Thousands of Students

By SALLY RYAN
NEW YORK (AP) — Nearly 300,000 college students will pack their phrase books, bikinis and guitars for trips abroad this summer. Even little brothers and sisters will join the exodus. "It's just snowballing," said James E. A. Glendinning, director of the National Student Association's tour program, Educational Travel, Inc.

He predicted that student travel would be up 15 to 20 per cent over last year.

The State Department issued passports of 324,180 persons aged 15 to 25 last year, up from 247,140 in 1965, and 48,970 youngsters aged 10 to 14 obtained passports, up from 37,490.

The number of younger travelers has increased so much that Arista, which bills itself as America's largest student travel organization, now splits its group into teen-agers (15-17), collegiates (17-21) and young adults (21-28).

Study Hours
Hundreds of other travel agencies, colleges and airlines are setting up tours and seminars for young people. They may study political science in Czechoslovakia or chamber music in Germany.

Most first trippers still go to Europe, but the number traveling to the Far East, particularly Japan, has been increasing, the council on student travel reports.

The council has chartered a ship to make 10 all-student transatlantic crossings this summer, with open-air language classes, panel discussions on civil rights, jazz sessions and warnings about shipboard romances.

The National Student Association has lined up tours and study programs that cost from $765 for three weeks in Europe to $1,815 for more than seven weeks.

Fondue Party
The tours cater to students with fondue parties with Swiss students in Zurich, dances at the Danish students' club in Copenhagen and an evening at a student inn in Heidelberg.

The number of American colleges and institutions sponsoring foreign study programs more than doubled from 103 in 1962 to 208 in 1965, the council reports. In 1950 there were only 6.

Stanford University now reaches out from its California campus to administer year-around study centers or campuses in Japan, Formosa, Italy, France and Germany.

This summer, the emphasis for many students will be on travel-study-work programs.

Adventist Colleges Abroad in Riverside, Calif., offers credit for an around-the-world tour ($2,078, plus tuition), and Beloit College in Wisconsin will sponsor an eight-week seminar in Geneva on international organizations ($1,300).

Schools Abroad
Georgetown University will set up summer schools in France, Mexico, Austria and Japan.

A number of groups, many of them religious, will sponsor work camps, particularly in Mexico, Africa and India.

For high school students, there will be bicycle trips, home exchanges, sightseeing tours, bar mitzvah pilgrimages and study programs.

For high school boys and girls who have had one year of Russian, there even is a Russian studies program: one month at the Choate school in Wallingford, Conn., and one month of travel in the Soviet Union, Poland, Finland and the Netherlands for $2,000.

Fond du Lac Presents Case

Giving Away City Services Would Hamper Annexation

FOND DU LAC — The city Friday afternoon presented its case for annexation to the Town of Fond du Lac before the Department of Resource Developments (DRD) after the town had argued all morning for a metropolitan sanitary district.

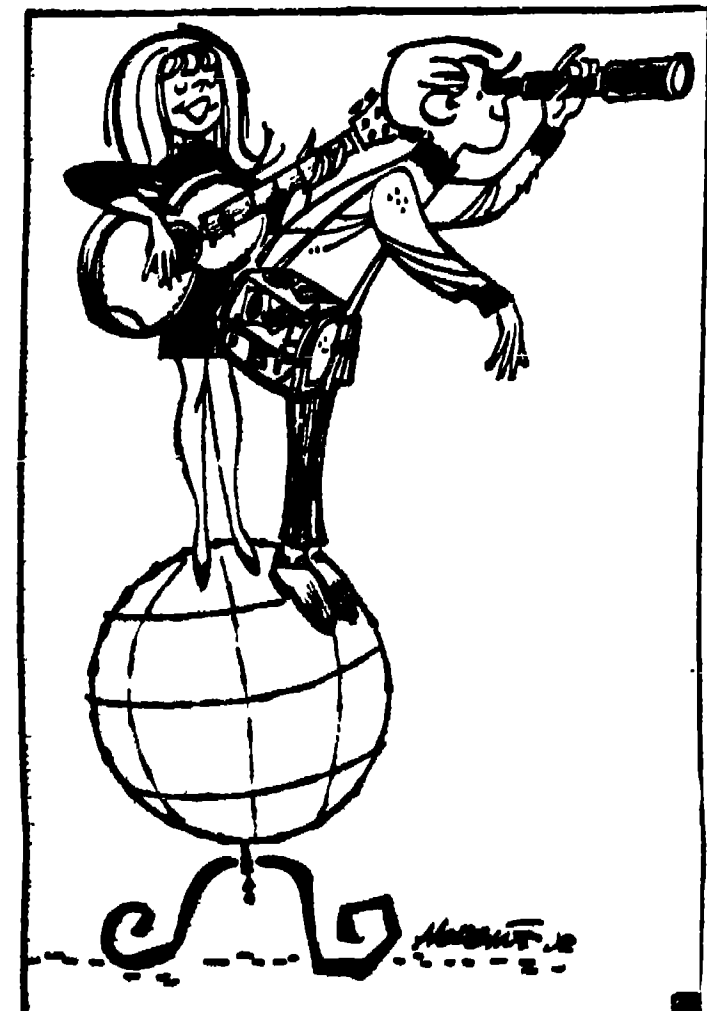

On hand to testify for the city were officials from Oshkosh, Manitowoc, Two Rivers, Sheboygan, Wausau, Madison, its consultant planners and David Carley, former head of DRD, plus Ed Johnson, executive secretary of the League of Municipalities.

The city contended that to give away its banner service of sewage collection and treatment would take away all incentive for annexation and annexation was the only way that the city could grow in "an orderly manner."

First in State
Freeman Holmer, DRD director, said this hearing, the first in the state, would not result in any order from his department.

The township had previously been ordered to clean up its sewage that was polluting Lake Winnebago. This hearing was the first official step toward that end.

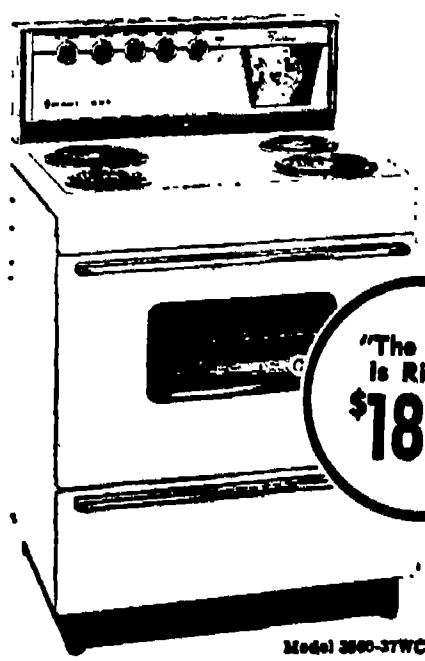

The city maintained that its plant, although large enough to handle the present load, would have to be increased to take on the added effluent from the township.

'A Loving Kind of a Community'

BY DICK LYNETS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Society's most basic and important unit — the family — seems to be a target of Students for a Democratic Society.

Earlier articles in this series have shown examples of SDS literature and have quoted SDS officials to show plans for disrupting and bringing about basic changes in the form of U.S. government and in the structure and administration of American higher and secondary education.

Undoubtedly, these revolutionary changes could be brought about much easier if the core of all American institutions — the family unit — was destroyed.

Dee Jacobsen, a national SDS official, calls the institution which would replace the family system "a loving kind of a community."

"Lived With a Girl" Jacobsen got into the discussion of this "community" after we asked him if he had ever been married or if he ever had children.

"I wasn't married," he answered, "but I lived with a girl for three years. I'm not living with a girl now, however. We haven't got time for marriage."

Jacobsen was asked about the need for "close relationships" among humans.

In a sarcastic tone, he answered, "We don't have legitimate marriages as society sets it, but we do live with a person and enjoy it. The strain of our activities are a strain on any personal relationship. Some people have been successful in retaining close relationships, but they're exceptions to the rule."

"That's why," Jacobsen continued, "SDS members are trying to create better institutions than the existing ones. We want to start a loving kind of a community. But it has been difficult to establish that type of community because we in SDS are products of the depraved America we're trying to change. So, in many ways, we're like society because we've been raised with the habits of society."

The SDS official was asked to go into greater detail about the "loving community."

"Open Door" "First," Jacobsen said, "the establishment of an 'open door' is a logical precursor of the establishment of a loving community. This community is but one area in which SDS is active in trying to bring about reform."

"It would be a completely open society with no formal kinds of marriage bonds. The children of the community would be cared for by the community and belong to the community, instead of to individual parents."

"Too many parents consider their children as personal property. They attempt to live vicariously through their children. They want children to have what they didn't have, whether they want it or need it."

"They have to live in a suburban community," he went on, "have a college degree, be married to a nice girl, and make $12,000 a year."

"Drummed Into Us" "These goals are drummed into us by the mass media from the day we are born."

People have been instilled with the attitude that these goals are good. If parents allowed their children freedom of choice," Jacobsen stated, "they wouldn't be able to realize their goals."

"But," the reporter said, "surely you realize and admit there is a natural and instinctive parent-child bond. No parent, even an SDS parent, could give up his child, could he?"

Jacobsen answered: "You're speaking of the purely psychological and instinctive physical bond. The concept of the instinctive bond has been exaggerated and distorted. There is a need for succorance, warmth, care and fondling, but there is a belief that these kinds of needs can be fulfilled by any sensitive adult in a community. It doesn't have to be the generic mother or father of the child."

"Children, results show, can be raised successfully in a communal manner. Many of these so-called feelings," he stated, "are artifacts of the society."

Is Love Allowed? This led to the question of whether parents would be allowed to maintain any contact with their generic children. Specifically, Jacobsen was asked: "Wouldn't you allow parents to love their children?"

He answered: "I would not rob people of that satisfaction, if they want it, but to say that these children are your property is a mistake. It produces many psychological difficulties."

How would SDS extend this society?, we asked. "The same problems occur in the educational system," Jacobsen answered, "where the administration substitutes itself for the parent image. The concept of 'in loco parentis' is that the administration is the parent away from home. This is all paternalistic which, in the final analysis, robs children of the right to be free and to make their own experiences."

"It's an educational system," he stated, "which emasculates the individual because it doesn't allow him to establish his own sense of self, so he can't get out on his own with the realization of a feedback from that aid."

Concept of Self "We're almost, in our society, totally reliant on other people to give us our concept of self. Other people say, 'You will do this,' so our concept of self derives from this."

"If a person wants self-confidence to act as a totally responsible agent in society," Jacobsen said, "he must decide himself how he is to act. He can't live in conformity."

We pointed out that SDS members are conformists themselves in a different sense.

"You're correct," Jacobsen admitted, "in a sense. We, in SDS, don't claim to be free."

"But," he explained, "we are struggling to create a society where such people can exist. We identify ourselves as the true agents for a social change. We want a concept of self as an integral part of a community. We tend to get carried away with that because people are a little bit like sheep."

"For a person to join SDS in college and then to go out into society and call himself a free person is absurd. I'm not free and I'd be kidding myself if I said I will be a free person within the next 10, 15 or 25 years."

"We really want to fundamentally change the fabric of American society," Jacobsen said, "and that may take a long time. This is the kind of a revolution which, if it succeeds, will take several years. That's why we don't join in the electoral system and why we realize the electoral system cannot be used to bring about the changes we want."

Jacobsen's ideas on the "loving community" make one wonder if all SDS members share this view. If many of them do, where do they come from? What has society done to them to make them want a change?

(Tuesday: Where do the SDS members come from?)

George D. Gregory, who for the last nine years has been promoting a soft drinks firm, bottlers of ginger ale, tonic water and the like, moved onto the scene just as Scotland Yard moved early in March from its turreted home on the banks of the Thames to a modern glass and steel building near Westminster Abbey.

He is a part of the Yard's move into modern times, along with the computerized police station use of radio, radar and scientific analysis, and modern communications.

For six months he intends to study, read, watch, meet people, and then strike out with an active program.

He wants to know the multiple jobs the Metropolitan Police do, the points of friction with the public, the best ways to recruit the best men, and the best ways to sell the bobbies to the people who pay the bill.

1. time the job will involve perhaps advertising, close contact with the press, radio and television, and creation of an atmosphere to lift Scotland Yard out of insular thinking.

2. mile still preserving the secrecy and security any police force lives by.

As a naval officer for 22 years, a civilian in government departments, and then a public relations man, Gregory, 33, is outspoken, highly vocal, and quite unafraid to take on anything new.

Many Chores "I am still amazed in this short time to find out just how many jobs the police do," he said. "Only five per cent of the public ever have any contact with the police and they don't really know what they are doing."

"Take the Aldermaston marchers (antinuclear demonstrators) for instance. The Metropolitan Police stand by, steer them, keep them under control, and the result is an orderly procession with no trouble."

Scotland Yard Swings Modern With PR Man

Former Soft Drink Promoter Wants To Explain Bobbies

By THOMAS A. REEDY
LONDON, (AP) — For the first time in its history Scotland Yard, the heart of Britain's police, has acquired a top public relations man.

George D. Gregory, who for the last nine years has been promoting a soft drinks firm, bottlers of ginger ale, tonic water and the like, moved onto the scene just as Scotland Yard moved early in March from its turreted home on the banks of the Thames to a modern glass and steel building near Westminster Abbey.

He is a part of the Yard's move into modern times, along with the computerized police station use of radio, radar and scientific analysis, and modern communications.

For six months he intends to study, read, watch, meet people, and then strike out with an active program.

He wants to know the multiple jobs the Metropolitan Police do, the points of friction with the public, the best ways to recruit the best men, and the best ways to sell the bobbies to the people who pay the bill.

1. time the job will involve perhaps advertising, close contact with the press, radio and television, and creation of an atmosphere to lift Scotland Yard out of insular thinking.

2. mile still preserving the secrecy and security any police force lives by.

As a naval officer for 22 years, a civilian in government departments, and then a public relations man, Gregory, 33, is outspoken, highly vocal, and quite unafraid to take on anything new.

Many Chores "I am still amazed in this short time to find out just how many jobs the police do," he said. "Only five per cent of the public ever have any contact with the police and they don't really know what they are doing."

St. Patrick Cathedral Sets Requiem Mass for Late Sen. McCarthy

The 10th anniversary requiem mass for the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, R-Wisconsin, will be held at noon May 6 at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City.

Although McCarthy died May 2, 1957, the day of the memorial service was selected to avoid conflict with the Armed Services Day parade and celebrations. A luncheon will be held at the Seventh Regiment Armory, Park Avenue and 65th Street, immediately following the religious services. Sen. McCarthy was a member of Appleton Father Fitzmaurice Council No. 607, Knights of Columbus.

he's "constable." Judges address him as "officer." Gregory apparently leans toward the old-fashioned "bobby."

He has 22 press officers under him. To them, he has only one dictum:

"Tell the truth or don't say anything at all."

When the machine is rolling he has an ambition:

"I'd like to go to Chicago and see that marvelous police operation."

Menasha Boys Who Stole Car, Released to Parents' Custody

Two Menasha boys, ages 13 and 15, were referred to juvenile authorities, then released to their parents Friday after they stole a car from a Menasha home, rammed into the rear of a car near Appleton, fled the accident scene and were apprehended by a Winnebago County Sheriff's Department investigator.

Outagamie County police said that the stolen car, driven by the 13-year-old youth, ran into the rear of an auto driven by August Harp, 70, 705 N. Durkee St., Appleton, as the Harp car was stopped behind other cars at County Trunk A and U. S. 10, west of Appleton.

The youths then jumped out of the car, Outagamie County police said, and fled across the field, into a barn. The car rolled about 150 feet into a ditch, striking a pole.

The stolen car, a 1956 Chevrolet, is owned by Mrs. Lloyd Emerich, 790 Seventh St., Menasha, who said the car was stolen from her driveway while she was attending a teachers convention in Oshkosh. Mrs. Emerich teaches in Appleton. She said the theft occurred about 9:30 a.m. Her car was extensively damaged. The Harp car sustained about $350 damage to the rear end, police said.

The Menasha youths were taken into custody by Sgt. Richard Cook of the Winnebago County Sheriff's Department, who came onto the accident.

Judge Lacks Jurisdiction; Count Dismissed

A 35-year-old Appleton man was freed from a driving while under the influence of intoxicants charge Thursday after Outagamie County Judge Gustave J. Keller said he had no jurisdiction because the offense occurred in Winnebago County.

Outagamie County police arrested Archie L. Stigney, 1710 N. McDonald St., about 9:10 p.m. Nov. 4 at County Trunk BB and U.S. 41, after observing the course of his car. The arrest report stated that the offense occurred in the Town of Grand Chute, but A. W. Ponath, county corporation counsel, told the court he felt the violation was at least partly in Winnebago County.

County Trunk BB divides Outagamie and Winnebago counties for some distance, with the north half of the road lying in Outagamie County and the south half in Winnebago.

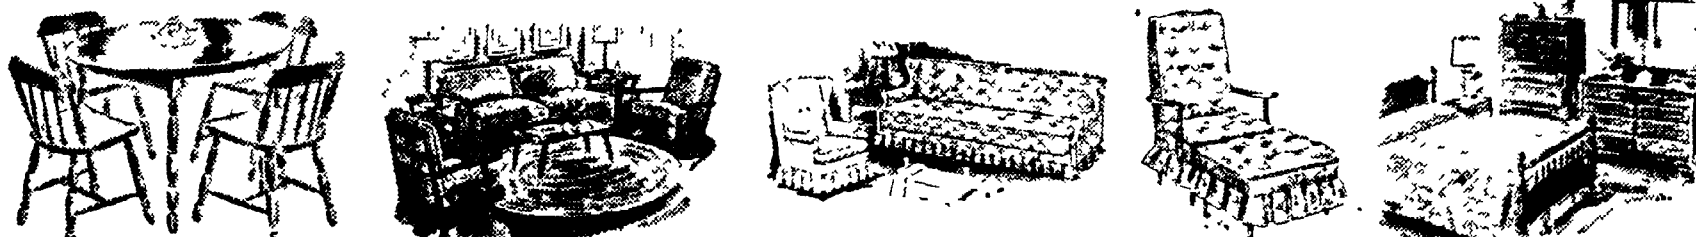

The dismissal came on a motion by Ponath. Stigney, who was not in court, was to have had trial April 27.

'Huk' Commander Killed in Clash

MANILA (AP) — Four men, including the commander of the Huk terrorist organizations, were killed in a clash between government forces and insurgents in Tarlac Province north of here, reports reaching Manila said Saturday night.

The other three fatalities were identified as two Philippine constabulary soldiers and a government informer.

Mr. Carley Speaks Up

The aptitude of David Carley, the Democratic national committeeman of Wisconsin, and his expert understanding of matters political, have been noted in these and other editorial columns of Wisconsin since his rise in state party affairs.

Mr. Carley's testimony in Madison the other day before the state senate judiciary committee on the need for substantial revision of the Wisconsin presidential primary law provides another example of his intelligent grasp of political problems, whatever differences other political leaders may have on ideological matters.

Unlike other principal spokesmen of his Wisconsin party, Mr. Carley refused to disown a sensible, practical, farsighted plan to make the celebrated Wisconsin presidential testing a meaningful and instructive event for the rest of the country. He noted that the proposal had been carefully devised by leading figures of both Wisconsin political parties, including himself as an agent of the Democratic organization. By indirection, he chastised those Democratic leaders in the legislature who are now nit-picking in the discussions on the floor about the measure that their spokesmen earlier had approved with their votes and their signatures.

We hope Mr. Carley's intervention will serve to neutralize the contrived objections from others of the Wisconsin Democratic leadership.

Where To, Kaukauna?

With 80.5 per cent of the eligible Kaukauna voters going to the polls last week, city fathers were given a new mandate when the people approved a referendum calling for a full-time mayor.

The common council has the ultimate authority to create such a post. But before establishing the office, a number of questions arise which should be considered by people and aldermen alike. Some of the questions may call for additional referenda.

Should the city reduce the number of aldermen per ward? At present, each of the five wards has two aldermen, salary $900 per year. With a full-time mayor, much of the work load will be taken from the shoulders of aldermen. Thought should be given to having a single alderman from each ward. The $4,500 savings in salary could help pay the increased salary of the mayor.

Perhaps aldermen should be elected on a city-wide rather than ward basis. This would eliminate the need for an alderman to concentrate on improvements in his ward to insure re-election. It would make

The F-111 Fiasco

If ordinary Americans think the prices they pay for just about everything are always going up, they are probably right. And it doesn't stop at personal things. The United States Government — and therefore the taxpayer — gets the same treatment.

Secretary McNamara has heatedly defended his concept of the building of the F-111 plane by explaining that producing the same plane for both the Navy and the Air Force would probably save a billion dollars. But at the time the contract was let, controversially to General Dynamics, it was estimated that the planes would cost about $3 million apiece. The latest estimate hits the astronomical figure of $16 million per plane. This is not the actual cost in view today but the $16 million figure came up as probable in the future in the agreement with England for its purchase of several of the F-111s for its own defense needs.

Secretary McNamara's estimate of cost savings depended in great part upon the commonality of design and construction for the two military arms. The most severe critics now contend that the commonality actually means that the plane is not really adaptable for either Air Force or Naval

Looking Backward

$250 Raised to Aid Freedmen

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for April 18, 1867.

The Rev. David Teed, general agent of the Freedman's Aid Society for the Methodist Episcopal Church, for the northwest, preached Sunday last as planned at the Appleton Church.

We are told that over $250 was raised for the cause.

Congress very unjustly — which, of course, means very unwisely — refused to require universal education in the rebel states as one of the conditions of admission to an equal place in the Union.

But the lovers of humanity, of justice, and human progress have got themselves well organized and are hard at work teaching the freedmen the rudiments, at least, of a plain English education.

The poor whites need the schooling just as much as the blacks; they are just as ignorant. Unfortunately for themselves and ominously for the good of the nation, these ignorant whites hold off obstinately from these schools and

We would suggest also that such men as Chairman Ody Fish of the Republican Party organization, who served on the drafting committee, and Rep. John W. Byrnes, whose original suggestion brought about the revision project, try to persuade some of the recalcitrant legislative Republicans, among them Sen. Gerald Lorge of Outagamie County.

For the objective of the pending amendments in the legislature is merely to assure that this highly touted primary election mechanism will produce what it now purports to produce, but does not, and provide what the rest of the country has been erroneously told too often — that it provides a truthful guide to national conventions about the popular attitude on contending candidates for presidential nominations. It does not, for the reason that it is used only by those who choose to file here, and in most instances, many of the de facto candidates do not choose to file.

The plan is to list all of the candidates who are regarded as candidates by a high calibre nonpartisan election commission, and to permit them to withdraw their names from the popularity ballot only upon an explicit declaration that they are not candidates. We can imagine no legitimate objection, among those who regard election laws as serving the people rather than the aspirants for public place, to such a reasonable proposition.

everyone more city conscious and aldermen and mayor would work together for the good of everyone rather than for a specific area.

Should the office of mayor be created for a four-year term? High calibre men might hesitate to seek public office for a two-year term, giving up a good position for the always insecure position in politics.

Also to be considered is the necessity for primary elections. Such an election would definitely be necessary to reduce a five or six-man mayoralty field. It could also be utilized to help reduce the number of aldermanic candidates running. At present no limit to the number of candidates is set, thus five-man races are not unusual.

Study should also be given to present duties of the mayor and what duties would be added or expanded by the creation of a full-time office. Many other questions are likely to arise and aldermen have a duty to know the feelings of people they represent, on all phases of the full-time mayor question, before rushing it to realization.

needs. It does not have the range the Air Force would like and its landing speed is more than the Navy would prefer and there are other technical criticisms of its performance. These criticisms on top of the controversy over which company should build the plane and why and some amount of disappointment over its performance in tests to date have not added to the prestige of the Department of Defense.

There may have been some suspicion that the option to Great Britain to buy forty of the F-111s was a way out of the whole mess. But England is going to be able to buy the initial group at $7 million apiece which won't bail out soaring American costs. And in any event it is likely that the United States was supposed to be ordering several thousand of the planes and most definitely pinning its future air power ideas upon the F-111.

Putting all our eggs in one basket in this way may turn out to be both dangerous and expensive. But Secretary McNamara is a man who seldom concedes a mistake. If there has been one concerning the F-111, we doubt that we will ever hear it mentioned from the Department of Defense.

teachers. They will have nothing to do with them.

Dallas Police Still Can't Figure Out Why Oswald Shot Patrolman

BY HENRY J. TAYLOR

DALLAS — District Attorney Jim Garrison's fast-breaking New Orleans contentions regarding President Kennedy's assassination are being watched — "hands off" — with intense interest by the federal and local officials personally in command of the investigating teams that supplied the material here for the Warren Commission Report.

Aside from this, however, I find a fact that is utterly unfathomable to these knowing men.

Straight across the board, they ask a question of themselves obscured in the Niagara of outside comment and books. Their question is: Why did Lee Harvey Oswald kill patrolman J. D. Tippit?

They pinpoint the moment at which Oswald's identifiable premeditation of the murder began as the moment he made the brown paper bag to carry the rifle to the Texas School Book Depository Building. Oswald's problem was his getaway.

HERE ARE THE FACTS

Study the facts carefully, say the investigators here.

Oswald's temporary hole-in was at 1026 North Beckley Avenue, a rooming house, under the alias O. H. Lee. He left the book building at 12:33, three minutes after the shots, and reached his rooming house about 12:59, totally unflustered. When he came in house-keeper Earlene Roberts said only, "Oh, you are in a hurry," although Oswald did not respond.

He changed his clothes within three or four minutes and walked out zipping up a later-discarded jacket.

Some 22 minutes earlier Homicide Bureau Chief J. Will Fritz had radioed a Code 3 (emergency) order directing all downtown patrol cars to the Book Depository Building. And at 12:45, again at 12:48 and 12:52 he broadcast a suspect's description — an amazingly fast and accurate description by Captain Fritz.

At 12:45 the radio dispatcher ordered Car 78 — Tippit's plainly emblazoned police car — to "move into Central Oak Cliff area" to strengthen the assassin search there.

At 12:54 Tippit radioed that

Now for the moment of action by Tippit and Oswald that utterly baffles the top investigators here.

Tippit, out of his patrol car and coming to Oswald, had not drawn his gun. In the bottomless sea of words written, this fact is a hardly revealed fact — not even made clear in the Warren Report — that astonishes professional police officers.

Oswald pulled out a revolver and four bullets killed Tippit instantly.

DEFEATED GETAWAY

Nothing could have created a more public commotion, nothing could have more surely defeated Oswald's getaway from the 12:30 crime, and of course it resulted in Oswald's being seen and caught within minutes after he rushed through the bystanders and ran (eight uproared blocks) to the Texas Theatre.

When Sgt. Gerald Hill brought in his prisoner for the murder of Patrolman Tippit, Captain Fritz told Hill to help pick up for questioning a man named Lee Oswald "not present at the roll call of Book Depository employees."

Said Hill: "Captain, we'll save you the trouble... There Oswald sits."

President Kennedy's assassination investigators, such as regional F.B.I. chief Gordon Shanklin, Captain Fritz and the rest are used to, and fed up with, the many mysteries claimed by outsiders that they know are not mysteries at all. They simply shake their heads in amazement, frustration or disgust.

But this is their own inside mystery. They find no answer to what happened at 1:15 that Friday, November 22.

Wisconsin Report

Observations About Chief Justice Currie's Defeat in Election

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — If there were shudders in the courthouses of Wisconsin last week, there was a good cause. If the chief justice of the State Supreme Court can be turned out of office after a campaign in which few observers could define the issues clearly, what magistrate in the state can assume that his own seat is secure?

The election of Circuit Judge Robert Hansen of Milwaukee over Chief Justice Currie was the most startling and the most important of the electoral decisions of last Tuesday. Perhaps it was also the most ominous. A lawyer friend of some experience has suggested that it was the most cruel election result of his lifetime. It is difficult to dispute the assessment.

The sitting judge tradition, the idea that a trial court or appeal court judge is entitled to reasonable security and the expectation of lifetime service has been one of the accepted elements of Wisconsin government. Yet perhaps too many assumptions have been made on the basis of that tradition. Surely Judge Currie and his aides will be pouring over the election returns, with all of their contradictions, to ponder what they did wrong, or inadequately, or too late.

Certainly also the judge's associates on the court, contemplating the expiration of their own terms in following years, will have some melancholy reflections about the hazards ahead.

CHANGE OF SYSTEM?

Many leading and responsible lawyers have had deep doubts about the value of the elective system of judicial selection and there have been sporadic efforts to modify or eliminate it. The Currie experience, disturbing as it is to the bench-bar establishment, may regenerate such a plan, although it will be a difficult task. If the elective system is retained, the Hansen precedent will probably assure similar future challenges of sitting judges.

There will be a tendency to regard the Currie defeat as a fluke. Yet that would be inaccurate. The judge and his campaign assistants knew that the fight would be a close one. They had their warnings clearly enough in the primary election vote pattern.

There is little encouragement in the rest of the election decisions, moreover, to believe that the judicial voting was casual and the result accidental.

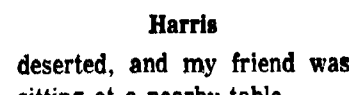

The voting on a reasonably numerous and complex series of proposals for constitutional revision showed an extraordinary response. Perhaps nobody with any claim to understanding Wisconsin electoral behavior believed that all of the eight propositions would be endorsed. Yet they were, in a magnificent example of electoral attentiveness, Wisconsin history and all other things considered.

Strictly Personal

Original Sin: Wanting Drink on Election Day

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

An old friend invited me to have lunch with him the following Tuesday. We agreed to meet at the bar of a restaurant we both like. When I arrived there, the bar was deserted, and my friend was sitting at a nearby table.

We had both forgotten it was an Election Day. No drinks were being served. And I was annoyed and frustrated about it.

Now there is nothing so remarkable about this; except that normally I do not care whether I have a drink or not before lunch, or before dinner, either, for that matter. Drinking doesn't happen to be one of the facts of life for me.

But the fact that I couldn't have one was irritating and confining. And it reminded me of all the other times I wanted a drink badly — going through a dry state on a train, or riding in an airplane that carried no liquor, or feeling a thirst for a bottle of beer in a small town after all the shops had closed for the night.

What do we do with the sheer perversity of the human creature? You could put me in the middle of a distillery making the rarest booze, offer it to me for nothing, and I'd be likely to ask for a cup of tea. But on Election Day my throat is parched for whisky.

This homely, humdrum example is really what is meant by the lofty theological phrase "original sin." Most people misconstrue its meaning, especially in the Adam and Eve myth. They imagine that the original sin had something to do with sex, since in our society the word "sin" is usually (and wrongly) equated with sex.

But what the myth points out, with psychological accuracy, was that the very moment man was created, he willfully did what he was told not to do. He was allowed to do anything in the garden he wanted to do — except eat the fruit from a certain tree. And that was the one thing he could not resist doing.

The phrase "forbidden fruit" has become a stereotype of language; but we fail to hook it up with the thing called "original sin," which it actually is. The original sin of Adam and Eve was disobedience to the best interest of their created human nature. It had nothing to do with desire, or the flesh. It had everything to do with will, or the mind.

What makes me crave for a drink on the very day I can't have one, and indifferent to it on the other days when I can? If we ever can answer this question rationally, we will have solved the riddle of good and evil, and there will be no need for Election Days.

City Dweller Wants Breaks Farmers Get

Editor, Post-Crescent:
Where are our protesting women of a few weeks back? Here is a situation that screams for protestors and we hear none! The farmers in the area are dumping their milk in an effort to raise the cost of milk two cents. Remember when it comes to you and me that raise will be more like five cents. Now I fully agree they own their milk and have every right to do anything they wish with their product.
Here is my only thoughts on the subject. If this is fair for them I feel we city dwellers have a right to do a little protesting on our own. It's now time for us to write our senators and congressmen saying "Stop," a big "Stop," buying the excess food products from the farmer. Let's lower some prices instead of always raising them. Why should we, the city man, pay higher and higher taxes for the privilege of buying the farmers excess food, pay for all the government processing, warehousing and just so we can have the honor to pay higher prices at the grocery store. Now is the time for us to stop being the slave of the farmers. When a millwright here in town has a surplus, does the government step in and buy it? Oh no. Why so with the farmer? When the mill has a surplus they lay off our men until such time as they are once more in need of their services.

Anything you can name the farmer is king in and he does not work any harder than our men in a year's time. The government seems to think the farmer is God reincarnated here on earth. I do not. Every move is done to ease their burden. It's high time they try easing the burden of the slave or the city dweller as you are known.
A fact seems to be forgotten but we need the farmer. However, the farmer needs us, the city dweller, too and this is what every one forgets. Its time for equal rights. This story is too one sided.
Special deductions for taxes is for the farmer. Special rules for the farmer on social security, special driving rules for their children is the farmers motto. Special this and that till you don't know where you're at.
Now tell me they have more invested than you and I. Right, but you know when I go to a bank they want security for their loan. No security, no money. So with the farmer. If the farmer was not making good they would not lend. So the reasoning person must assume they have the security for the loan.
Lets prove our point another way. When the average city man dies he is lucky to have an estate of $10,000 to $20,000; this for a lifetime of hard work. Some not this much. For a lifetime of work a farmer's estate could range from $40,000 to $80,000 or more; some difference I'd say.

"Hi sucker" was a famous line during the early 20's. It certainly applies right now to you and me.
Our farmers wish the cost of milk to go up. I wish the cost of food to go down. Come on you farmer protestors. You know the state only lets the stores take a 6 per cent markup and you protested. How about getting our food cost down by cutting prices where they should be cut. Pick up your pen and write.
Come on "suckers" let's unite. How about some "specials" for our city dwellers?
A city dweller

Divorce Ends Marriage That's Already Dead

Editor, The Post-Crescent,
January of 1967 saw the inauguration of an organization presently being incorporated under the name of "Wisconsin Institute on Divorce." The aim of this group is to curb the startling, yes, frightening rise in the number of divorces, not only in our state, but nationwide.
Our goals are many, but we feel that the realization of one of them will bring about all of them. We would like to eliminate the adversary aspect of divorce proceedings, by establishing proposed Family Arbitration Centers. These centers would be staffed by competent sociologists, psychologists, psychiatrists, accountants, and attorneys skilled in handling real estate and related matters. We feel that by forming centers staffed in this way, we would be taking the marriage difficulty out of an atmosphere of a combat trial, and putting it in the hands of persons skilled in handling these problems.
The result of these centers would be to save a great many more marriages, bringing up the morals of the state, and lowering the amount of juvenile delinquency. I mention juvenile delinquency, because surveys have proven that the greater majority of all delinquents come either from broken homes, or from homes on the brink of breaking up.
At a recent meeting made up members of the legal profession, clergy, the press, and just plain workingmen, the speaker was asked for a reason for the growing number of divorces. His answer — "One of the biggest factors in the dissolution of the marriage, is the contention over who is going to be the head of that house, and make the decisions." He further pointed out that the happiest married families he knew, were those in which the wife and children respected and looked up to the husband and father as the head of that family. The group listened attentively when the speaker talked of the 71 per cent of those paying alimony and support, who were behind in their payments. He stated that: "What you (the courts) are doing in a divorce action is asking a man to support two homes, when before the divorce he might have had difficulty supporting one." In a divorce, the woman has a multitude of rights, whereas after the divorce is granted, the man has only one right left, "The right to pay."
Looking at it realistically, divorce is nothing more than a death certificate of a marriage already dead. Let's grant the divorce or deny it as painlessly and with as little name calling as possible, and in such a way that both parties can live with equal dignity. Let's

Nordlander Typed As 'True Patriot'

Editor, Post-Crescent,
The people who were so quick to denounce Robert Nordlander for his alleged lack of patriotism failed to come to grips with the question that he raised. How many Vietnamese will we kill in order that our will may be done? Another question ignored by Nordlander's critics had to do with possible limitations on the number of Vietnamese to be killed that might be set by the Christian religion professed by us. It is a pity that so many people condone killing just as long as Communists are the people being killed. They apparently agree with the Nazis and the Communists that the end justifies the means. The only difference between the Nazis and the Communists and the people who criticized Nordlander is that they have different ends. Considerations of ethics and morality would not prevent those people from achieving ends they believe to be good. In the case of Vietnam, they undoubtedly believe we should, if necessary, exterminate the entire population in order to save it from Communism.
I would like to call to the attention of Nordlander's critics a paragraph on patriotism taken from "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" by Mark Twain. Perhaps they will conclude that Mark Twain was "un-American" after they read it:
"You see, my kind of loyalty was loyalty to one's country, not to its institutions or its office-holders. The country is the real thing, the substantial thing, the eternal thing; it is the thing to watch over, and care for, and be loyal to; institutions are extraneous, they are its mere clothing, and clothing can wear out, become ragged, cease to be comfortable, cease to protect the body from winter, disease, and death. To be loyal to rags, to shout for rags, to worship rags, to die for rags—that is a loyalty of unreason, it is pure animal; it belongs to monarchy, was invented by monarchy, let monarchy keep it."
"I was from Connecticut, whose constitution declares 'that all political power is inherent in the people, and all free governments are founded on their authority and instituted for their benefit; and that they have At All Times an undeniable and undefeasible right to alter their form of government in such a manner as they may think expedient."

"Under that gospel, the citizen who thinks he sees that the commonwealth's political clothes are worn out, and yet holds his peace and does not agitate for a new suit, is disloyal; he is a traitor. That he may be the only one who thinks he sees this decay, does not excuse him; it is his duty to agitate anyway, and it is the duty of the others to vote him down if they do not see the matter as he does."
As a World War II veteran who suffered wounds inflicted by flag-worshipping Japanese patriots, I would like to salute Robert Nordlander as a true patriot who refuses to be silenced by the warriks. His is the highest type of patriotism, a patriotism that rebels against the slaughter of the Vietnamese peasantry and the young men of America in order that the Hitler-loving tyrant of Saigon may remain in power. Would that the gods have created more thinking patriots like Robert Nordlander!

Pie Feeds Make Up Tax Shortage

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — An adjustment in the tax rate left Edmonson County $7,623 short of the amount it had to raise to qualify for a full share of state school money.
So the people held a lot of pie suppers and received some private donations to raise the funds. The state attorney general said recently it was all right to count this money; otherwise the county would have lost $50,000 in state aid.
Edmonson County is in south-central Kentucky and includes most of the Mammoth Cave National Park.

Fund-Raising Group Named

Goal of Division to Win Support for 2 New UW Campuses

MILWAUKEE — A special fund raising division to win local financial support for the Green Bay and Parkside campuses has been created by the University of Wisconsin Campus Foundation, President Fred H. Harrington announced Saturday. The division will channel local donations for use in developing the two new branch campuses in Brown and Kenosha counties, he told the UW Board of Regents. Harrington said that the new division will make it possible for area donors specifically to request that their funds be used to develop the local schools, while channeling the gifts through the established UW fund raising structure.

Appt. Heads

He told the board, meeting in a two day session on the system's Milwaukee campus, that volunteer foundation directors from the new campus regents will soon be appointed to head local fund drives for support of the schools scheduled to open in 1969. The foundation now has directors from the Madison and Milwaukee areas and from throughout the country. The foundation's purpose is to seek donations from individuals and businesses to aid state supported projects and to finance programs, services, and structures not normally supplied with state funds. Harrington also announced that he had asked Milwaukee Chancellor J. Martin Klotz to head the foundation drives for new resources of support for the fast growing Milwaukee campus.

Start Drives

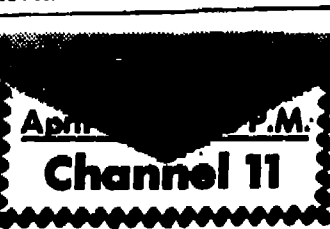

Harrington said that the new drives are being started because "no matter how much state money we get, we still need more." He quoted Ford Foundation head McGeorge Bundy as estimating the major American universities must find sources willing to donate five times as much money as they are now

Funds Earmarked For State Roads

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The federal government has announced the release of another billion dollars in frozen highway funds, including $659,613.91 for Wisconsin. An identical amount will be released to the state July 1, the receiving to meet the needs of the near future. All such funds now total about one-third of the UW $400 million biennial budget. "It's clear that we will have to do a lot more," Harrington told his regents.

Federal Highway Administration said Saturday.

Wesley J. Burmeister, Wisconsin's chief highway engineer, said the funds would result in another reshuffling of the State Highway Commission's 1967-68 program. It would be the sixth revision since the first federal freezes were announced last November.

Valley Braces For Impact of Firms' Lockout shipping commodities, however, for the State Department of Public Instruction school lunch program, along with surplus food shipments for welfare departments.

"We don't know how long this will continue, however," the spokesman said, explaining the firm operates mostly in Wisconsin and relies considerably on its connection with the interstate carriers in the state.

Motor Transport Co., Green Bay, which provides overnight service to Beloit, Janesville, Madison, Portage and communities in the Fox Cities region and other Wisconsin points, was "doing business as usual".

The firm, an intra-state hauler, did not participate in the lockout.

Food stores in the region will be affected to the extent that long-haul shipments will not be coming to their warehouses. However, they will be shipping foodstuffs as normal to their customers.

A major share of the produce coming into the region is shipped via trans-carloads.

Many wholesale and chain store firms in Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Neenah, Menasha, Appleton, Kaukauna, Sheboygan, Manitowish and Green Bay have their own truck fleets which are not affected by the lockout.

Fresh food will not be greatly affected by the shutdown of the big trucking firms because it is hauled mostly by truckers who are not members of Trucking Employees, Inc.

Hardest Hit

It is expected, according to one union official, the small carrier will be the hardest hit because of reliance on inter-line contacts with the cross-country shippers.

Kampo Transit, Inc., Neenah, one of the major hauler-warehouses in the Fox Valley, reportedly suspended freight shipments but continued its liquid-transport service.

Among the major firms that will not receive cross-country shipments, are Shannon Co., Appleton; United Grocers, Inc., Little Chute, and Red Owl Stores, Inc., and Super Valu, Inc., with huge warehousing facilities at Green Bay.

Teamster drivers belonging to Locals 75, Green Bay; 563, Appleton; 126, Fond du Lac; 56, Sheboygan; 619, Manitowish, and 354, Wisconsin Rapids, are among those locked out by firms doing business in the Fox Valley.

"The men have been instructed by the union to report for work every morning as usual," Schlieve said. "The companies have been notified the Teamsters consider the lockout a violation of the contract and the law, and will be held responsible for any monetary damages."

"If this thing goes on for a week you will see mass layoffs," Schlieve predicted, as he announced union drivers would get paid Teamster benefits the second week.

The crippling of coast-to-coast trucking is expected to put a heavy load on railroad freight facilities.

of two hard-core guerrilla battalions and a barrage of Red mortar fire.

The guerrillas, probably numbering more than 200 men, hit an isolated South Korean company and held it under fire for two hours just before dawn. Artillery and a circling C47, its guns spewing 6,000 rounds a minute, held off the Red assaults, and the guerrillas pulled back at dawn, leaving 36 dead on the field Pursuing Korean soldiers captured nine more.

The Korean company suffered moderate casualties, headquarters said.

Jungle Battle

In Tay Ninh Province, where the largest U.S. ground sweep of the war is now in its seventh week, the U.S. 173rd Airborne Brigade lost one dead and 14 wounded when they ran into a sudden jungle battle Sunday. The Reds quickly pulled back into the jungles near the Cambodian border.

In the same area a spotter plane sighted about 60 Communist soldiers on a jungle march and called in a barrage of 105mm howitzers. The barrage left 35 bodies strewn on the field, a U.S. spokesman said.

In the northern end of South Vietnam, a U.S. Marine force sweeping the area near the mouth of the Cao Dai River in Quang Nam Province combined with U.S. Navy river patrol boats to kill 22 Communist soldiers in a series of fights. The shallow draft patrol boats, each mounting three 50-caliber machine guns and a grenade launcher, accounted for eight of the dead. One U.S. Marine wounded.

Ninth Raid

The raid against the Thai Nguyen steel plant above Hanoi was the ninth strike against the showpiece industrial plant which was built with Red Chinese assistance.

The raid was made by all-weather jets from the carrier Enterprise before dawn today. A spokesman said darkness and bad weather prevented any damage assessment, nor could he say whether the nine raids since the early part of last month have stopped production at the plant. It turned out bridge sections, oil drums and other war materiel.

feeling that the process may speed up of its own accord.

The common market would break down trade barriers inside the region and establish common tariffs with respect to nations outside the hemisphere. The existence of the present Central American Common Market and the Latin-American Free Trade Association will not be affected during the process of building a new common market structure.

The ministers also reached unanimous agreement that unnecessary military expenditures should be eliminated, but it was left to each government to decide how much of a military establishment is necessary to it.

Bowed to Demands

The United States had wanted the common market started in 1970 and completed by 1980. But it bowed to demands that the term be extended to 15 years,

In today's early hours, the ministers set in motion measures intended to lead to a common market for 230 million Latin Americans.

With President Johnson expected Tuesday, issues remained unresolved which could reduce the final declaration to a set of generalities. However, the ministers agreed on the final wording of a passage on economic integration and industrial development of Latin America.

equated provisions for the crew to escape, and inadequate provisions for rescue or medical assistance on the launch pad.

Re-creating the tragedy, the board said the instruments disclosed a momentary power failure at 6:30:55 p.m. — nine seconds before the first cry of fire — and said an electrical arc may have been created at this time, shooting sparks into combustible material beneath Grissom's couch.

In an interpretation of a tape recording of the astronauts' voices — released for the first time in the report — the first alert came from Grissom.

"Hey!" or "Fire!" listeners believed Grissom said.

Two seconds later, there was an unclear word such as "I've" or "We've," believed spoken by Chaffee. The remainder of Chaffee's report is clear and reads: "got a fire in the cockpit."

Then came a 6.8-second period of no transmission, followed by a 15-second garbled tape interpreted in several ways: "They're fighting a bad fire. Let's get out... Open 'er up!" "We've got a bad fire. Let's get out... We're burning up."

"I'm reporting a bad fire ...

I'm getting out."

Seventeen seconds after the initial report, communications from Apollo 1 ended.

Cause of Death

The official cause of death was listed as "asphyxia due to inhalation of toxic gases due to fire," specifically carbon monoxide. Burns were a "contributory cause," the board's medical panel said.

Grissom was unable to do one of his first duties in such an emergency, push a handle to depressurize the cabin, the board said, because flames had engulfed the area of the handle.

Depressurization takes 20 seconds, however, and would not have saved the astronauts even if Grissom had thrown the switch, the board said.

Flames swept swiftly through the cabin, licking up nylon netting, padding and adhesive fasteners throughout the craft.

Intense Heat

It burned into plumbing

carrying highly combustible alcohol in Apollo 1's cooling system, building up heat so intense the spacecraft's pressure seal burst.

The review board said consideration should be given to using an air-like atmosphere during ground tests, but made no recommendation to change present plans to use a pure oxygen atmosphere in space, where the fire hazard is much less.

The space agency already has started building a new type of hatch that can be opened in two seconds. The Apollo 1 crew could not have opened the hatch in less than 80 seconds.

State Democrats to Meet in LaCrosse

MADISON (AP) — The 1967 Wisconsin State Democratic Convention will be held June 9-10 in La Crosse, Louis Hansen, Democratic state chairman, said today.

Delegates will elect a state chairman, organizational vice chairman, legislative vice chairman, treasurer and seven members-at-large to the Administrative Committee.

At issue in the strike were the union's demand for base pay of $325 a week and a greater share of commercial fees for about 100 local newscasters at network-owned stations in New York, Los Angeles and Chicago.

Another area of dispute, reportedly the last to be settled, was automation on network-owned FM stations.

The networks, who previously offered $300 a week through a system of base pay and fees, charged that AFTRA was demanding the assignment of extra staff announcers to cover jobs requiring only a few hours of airtime per week.

The strike pressed a diet of canned shows on TV viewers and late last week when engineers refused to cross AFTRA picket lines forced supervisory personnel to take over technical duties. The results at times were wavering sound, blurred pictures and missed cues.

Writers, cameramen and even motorcycle messengers at network pivot points stayed away from their jobs in sympathy with the 18,000-man striking union whose pickets included such celebrities as John Daly, Fran Allison and Ed McMahon.

Wedding Has Aspects Of Modern Melodrama

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON, (AP) — Pretty Jean Verall's wedding was more of a chaotic happening than the quiet wedding it started out to be.

Jean and the bridegroom, Edwin Cook, both 24, decided to have the wedding in Jean's home town, Cove, County Hampshire.

As Edwin's home is in Oldham, 200 miles from Cove, travel was required. Loaded with the best man, Edwin's brother, Brian, and other relatives and friends, a minibus set out for Cove from Oldham.

On the road the bus broke down.

The best man and others pushed it two miles to the nearest garage near Walsall, Staffordshire, found they were too early and waited two hours for mechanics to arrive. The mechanics decided the bus was beyond repair.

Taxis were summoned. Rushing to catch a train in Walsall, the fleet of taxis got caught in a traffic jam and missed the train by one minute.

Hiring a car, the party set out by road for Cove.

As all this was going on the situation tensed up at the church in Cove. The vicar said he had other marriages to perform. The organist said she had an appointment at the other end of town.

With the wedding ceremony about to collapse before it started, the bridegroom picked a substitute best man and the wedding was on.

Best man Brian got there at last but the service had progressed to the point that he had to watch from a pew.

In the meantime, Jean's mother, Frances Verall sent taxis to the outskirts of town to escort other guests to the wedding reception at Cove's ambulance hall.

As the married couple, best man, substitute best man and others entered the hall for the reception and refreshments, it was discovered that the caretaker had gone away with the only key to the cupboard that held the glasses and cutlery.

Guests were dispatched to buy paper plates and cups.

Jean's 4-year-old nephew fell off a chair and knocked himself out. A doctor was called.

At last, starting off for their honeymoon in Britain's lake district, Edwin and Jean learned stories were jumping the area. Instead, they went to Oldham and stayed with the best man who never was.

All this happened Tuesday. At Oldham today, Jean said: "Nothing went right except that we did get married."

Powell's Opponent Hopes To Make Good Showing

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP) — For a woman facing almost certain defeat at the polls Tuesday, Lucille Pickett Williams is the most exhilarated and happy candidate you ever saw.

Most of her fellow Republicans concede that Democrat Adam Clayton Powell is high to unbeatable in the special congressional election April 11. But a few of her diehard friends hold out a faint hope because, they say, "it's a secret ballot and you never know how people will vote."

But for Mrs. Williams, a strikingly handsome and young-looking Negro grandmother who can't care less if you know she's 50, the outcome of the election really isn't the point.

"What I hope is that I will make a good showing, to demonstrate to the world that there are people here in Harlem who believe in honor and dignity. It would help the image of Harlem."

As for scoring a victory, she admits "that really would be something!"

Tuesday morning she plans to get up at 6 as usual. "Then I'll go to as many polls as I can to say hello to everyone," she says.

"Tuesday night, when the returns are in—win, lose or draw—I want people to think I've conducted a dignified, clean campaign."

With the odds generally given Mrs. Williams, even the most seasoned politician might understandably be depressed. But she says: "The campaign has added 10 years on my life. I'm dead tired when I go to bed, but the next morning I'm rarin' to go."

Not Unusual
She has always had that kind of bouncy energy, she says. "God is good. I've had many blessings. Not moneywise—I've been poor all my life. But I've been rich in friends who've helped me."

Mrs. Williams is 6 feet in the spike heels she always wears. She is a well-proportioned size 18—"in the better dresses." Her voice is a mellow contralto and, her friends say, "when she begins to talk she keeps going, and she's a good talker."

In Harlem she's known as a fine cook—"she can really dress a table!" exclaims one admirer—and as a friendly, unpretentious hostess who can handle 200 guests as easily as a bridge foursome.

Even her opponent, Powell, says gallantly that she is "a lovely woman and a fine lady." She has no illusions, though, that any of that necessarily adds up to votes.

Small Office
Her three-week campaign is being run from three small rooms in an office building on 125th Street in the heart of Harlem.

On one battered desk is stacked her mail, which includes a postcard from a professional wrestler in Paris wishing her luck, $100 from an American woman expatriate living in France sent "as a gesture of faith in our country," and a request for a recipe from a Tennessee woman compiling a cookbook of famous people.

Once in a while a Powell follower calls to complain that she's conducting her campaign entirely in the press. And it's true that occasionally local, national and foreign newspaper,

Mrs. Lucille Pickett Williams is a candidate for the GOP entry against Adam Clayton Powell in the special election Tuesday. She hopes to make a good showing, to demonstrate to the world that there are people in Harlem who believe in honor and dignity. (AP Wire-photo) radio and television people are stacked up three deep awaiting their turn with her.

"I can't just go out on the street and walk up to strangers and shake their hands," she explains. "I never had any intention of campaigning on street corners. For what?"

"And the press is so good to me. Several of the men told me it would be a shame to let me go back to housekeeping. And two women—women, mind you—wrote that I could pass for 30 any day." Her chuckle is deep in her throat.

Every day though she walks to lunch several blocks down the street, shaking hands and occasionally getting a chance to wave at her son, Bill, 31, father of her 12-year-old granddaughter, as he drives a Transit Authority bus along 125th Street. After lunch she walks another few blocks, greeting people who know her, to the Square Deal Republican Club, where she has been a leader for more than 20 years.

Proud of Her
Her second husband, Edward, a widower she married five years ago, is also a bus driver.

"He's a Democrat," she says, "and he's very proud of me now. But he was leery at first. He thought I might run into trouble. He said, 'You're my life, I love you. I can't see you out there running risk, and for what?'"

"I wasn't afraid, though. They said James Meredith got threats when he agreed to oppose Powell as the Republicans' first choice, but the only thought that bothered me was that I knew I would faint at that press conference the day I was nominated."

If defeated, Mrs. Williams, a beautician, will probably return to the $7,000 a year job she has held for eight years as secretary to the New York State Cosmetology Advisory Committee. She took a leave of absence to campaign.

What if she does get into Congress?

Would be There
"Why then I would like to do all the things that Adam wanted to do when he first went in—and didn't. I know I'd be a freshman, but so would he be now. I haven't had his education or congressional experience, but I'd employ the best people to help me—and I'd always be there on the job."

"I so much want to make a new image of hope and pride for women—not just black, but all women all over the world."

Wedding Vows Said

Miss Bonnie Nackers and Jack Schultz were married Saturday at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. The Rev. Norbert Vandeloo officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nackers, 1919 S. Jackson St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Junior Schultz, 1515 N. Mason St.

Mrs. Jim Schultz attended as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Linda Drake and Miss Ellen Huebel. Junior bridesmaid was Miss LuAnn Nackers.

Jim Schultz attended his brother as best man. Groomsman were William Nackers and Dan Christianson. Guests were seated by Gary Schultz and Eugene Nackers.

A reception was held at Van Abel's Restaurant, Hollandtown. Mrs. Schultz is employed by St. Elizabeth Hospital. Her husband is with Fox River Paper Corp.

After a wedding trip to northern Wisconsin, the newlyweds will reside in Appleton.

Admission of Alcoholism Essential to Treatment

CHICAGO, ILL. — More than 5,000,000 Americans are suffering from a "serious, insidious and progressive disease" — alcoholism. The estimate and warning comes from the American Medical Association which urges that symptoms of the disease be recognized and treated early enough to avoid permanent damage.

According to the AMA, alcoholism is an emotional illness which can be treated successfully although its causes are not fully understood. Among the early symptoms of the disease are increasing consumption of alcohol; necessity for a drink, particularly at a certain time of day, using alcohol as a drug rather than as a beverage; drinking in the morning or on awakening; getting drunk alone.

Seek Help

When these signs appear, it's urgent that expert help be obtained at once. Neither scolding nor sermonizing will help. Since alcoholism is an illness, the doctor is one major source of help. Effective, too, is Alcoholics Anonymous, which has had an encouraging record of success in working with alcoholics; family service agencies; and community mental health organizations.

While alcoholism is treatable it is not curable. The only successful treatment known so far is total abstinence. "Alcohol is a chemical, a drug," the AMA points out, "and as with any addiction, abstinence is the only possible successful solution."

Alcoholics should be helped to understand that many illnesses, not just theirs, "necessitate a limitation on some of the desirable aspects of living." Sports, diabetics must control their diets. Alcoholics may not drink alcohol.

Serious Questions

How high is your alcohol quotient? To find out, answer the following questions with a yes or no:

- 1) Is alcohol a stimulant?
- 2) Will you get as drunk on beer as by drinking the same amount of alcohol in stronger drinks?
- 3) Will you get drunker by switching drinks than by taking the same amount of alcohol in one form such as bourbon?

4) Should you wait at least three hours after drinking two highballs to be sure you can drive safely?

5) Is alcohol taken as a medicine necessary in the treatment for any disease?

6) Is it a good policy to take a few "shots" of whiskey to warm one up just before being exposed to very low temperatures?

Correct Answers

The correct answers, says the AMA, are as follows:

1. No. The apparent stimulation is due to lessening of the inhibitions by the narcotic action of alcohol.

2. No. The large amount of water in beer is responsible for slower absorption of alcohol.

3. No. The intoxicating action depends upon the amount of alcohol regardless of the type of drink, assuming that all the drinks contain about the same amount of water.

4. Yes. The two highballs contain a total of about one ounce of pure alcohol. It takes about three hours to oxidize one ounce of alcohol.

5. No. "Alcohol is not a specific or cure for any disease, unless one considers 'worry' a disease, and a drugged indifference a cure."

6. No. The feeling of warmth after drinking is caused by the dilation of the superficial capillaries. This condition is associated with rapid loss of bodily heat.

The Ailing House Try Fixing Blisters On Wood

BY ROGER C. WERTMAN

Q: What can I do about the veneer on an old table? It has several "blisters" where it raised from the wood underneath.

A: With even reasonable care, you can do a repair which will make you feel like a cabinet maker. Using an extremely sharp blade, slice across each blister, following the grain of the wood. Through this slit, work glue, epoxy cement or other good adhesive, trying to butter the underside of the blister. Weight it down heavily until the adhesive has dried. Be sure to wipe up material which may ooze through the slit.

Q: How can I get rid of silverfish? They are beginning to cause us quite a problem.

A: Their favorite diet is starch. Beside going for any exposed starchy foods, they feed on starch paste used in bookbindings, wallpaper and starched draperies and upholstery. One of the oldest remedies — pyrethrum powder — is still among the very best. Puff this powder behind books, in dark corners and cracks, in fact anywhere you catch a glimpse of these pests. DDT and lindane power are effective. But only use this in area where pets can't reach.

Q: Although it has not rusted through, the galvanized roof on my tool house is more than half covered with rust. Any help?

A: Scrape off what is loose.

Kimberly Five generations present at a recent family party were Mrs. Levi Dufresne, Niagara, the oldest at 92 years of age; Debra Jean Schumann, Kaukauna, six years old, the youngest; Mrs. Edward Olive, seated; and Mrs. Charles Schumann, Kaukauna, and Gerald Schumann, both of Kaukauna, standing.

Then use a rust-inhibiting primer and paint which will prevent further rusting and protect the surface.

Q: When Spring arrives, I plan to paint my link-wire fence. Are there any shortcuts for what I'm sure can be a very tedious job?

A: Instead of a brush, use a roller, the same type as used for painting masonry — with long fibers. Sometimes you only have to do one side of the fence; the long nap seems to wrap itself right around the wire as it goes along. At most, you'll only have a few touch-ups when you do the other side.

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR READERS: One of the unalterable characteristics of human nature is the inclination to express oneself against something more often and more strongly than for something. The aggrumers in our society are infinitely more vocal (and better organized) than the "positive thinkers."

Landers

I recently printed a letter decrying the easy availability of guns in this country and the need for some decent gun laws. I agreed with the writer and asked my readers to write to their senators and congressmen and state legislators. As a result of that one letter, my mail has virtually tripled. The National Rifle Association boasts 800,000 members. I have the feeling that most of them must have written (at least once) to tell me to "Get lost" — "Drop dead" — "Go down." There were numerous other suggestions — mostly unprintable.

Here are some samples of what my week has been like: Dear Ann Landers: What are you, a Communist or something? What do you mean by trying to take guns away from the American people? Don't you know the Constitution of the United States gives us the right to bear arms? I'm going to write to my senator as you suggested, but it won't be about gun laws. It will be a request that you be investigated for un-American activities. — Texas Citizen

I replied to Texas citizen (and to 20,000 other citizens who made the same point) that the intent of the second amendment to the Constitution is to give each state the right to maintain an organized militia. It doesn't mean states and the federal government can't have laws strictly regulating the sale and registration of firearms. Many states already have such laws (and less trouble).

Here's another doll:

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Guns are not dangerous. People who don't know how to use guns are dangerous. What we need is proper instruction on the handling of firearms. I am in favor of school children being taught in the classroom how to use a gun. Children who grow up with guns and learn how to handle them intelligently will never have a problem. — R. A. of Illinois.

Dear R. A.: You sound like that New England psychiatrist who was in favor of school kids learning how to drink liquor in kindergarten. His theory was that if kids became acquainted with liquor early in life, they would know how to handle it later. Sorry, but I didn't buy his theory and I don't buy yours.

Dear Ann: If people want to kill they will kill. If they don't have a gun handy they will use a knife, or a letter opener, or a silk stocking. The Boston strangler used his hands. So why don't you stick to love problems and stay out of things you don't know anything about? — Charlie

Dear Charlie: Police officers say guns are about eight times more likely to kill than other weapons. Of the 35 men who have served as President of the United States, one-fifth have been shot at, four were killed, two were wounded and two were missed. According to the FBI in 1965, 33 American police officers were murdered — 23 by guns.

"The Mercedes-Benz 230S is over-engineered," say the critics. A welcome excess, say the facts.

Up front in the 230S is an exotic, single overhead camshaft Six. Underneath, one of the most sophisticated suspension designs outside the racing world. And the 230S doesn't really need its 9.9-inch front disc brakes. Sheer engineering extravagance — or something better? Read on, then decide for yourself.

SOME critics claim that the Mercedes-Benz 230S uses unique technical features when something more mundane would do. That it's "over-engineered."

The Publisher of Car and Driver magazine recently summed up the case for the 230S:

"It has more than enough brakes for its potential speed. It has the capacity to go around a corner much, much faster than anybody's ever going to go. It rides very well. The seats are designed to sustain loads and provide comfort over a longer period of time than anyone is ever going to sit in them. It's a 100 percent kind of automobile."

To those who view a car as a machine and not an image builder, this "over-engineering" makes eminent good sense. And makes the 230S well worth its $4938* price. Some reasons for that price — and some answers to the charge of "over-engineering":

"Everybody in America is going fast today, but how many of us can stop?"

—David E. Davis Jr.

The 230S can stop — and stop and stop and stop. Two strong reasons: a 9.9-inch disc brake on each front wheel.

Designed for 150-mph racing cars, disc brakes banish the threat of fade in repeated hard use. The threat of brake "lock-up" is vastly reduced. Water and dust have little effect.

Extra benefits at no extra cost: A power assist that takes the work out of braking, and dual circuit brake lines that remove the possibility of total brake failure.

"It will go down a nasty little one-lane country road just as well as it goes down the New York Thruway"

—Automotive editor

It has to. Mercedes-Benz cars are sold in 156 countries where nasty little one-lane country roads are often the only roads. A spongy "boulevard" ride won't do in Afghanistan or Iceland. Mercedes-Benz engineers had to come up with something better.

Their solution, borrowed from racing experience: a fully independent, rear swing axle suspension.

You can slam the 230S over a railway crossing and it won't still be bouncing half a mile down the road. You can travel corkscrew mountain passes and enjoy the ride. If so inclined, you could smoothly sweep around a racing circuit — without as much as pumping up the tires beforehand.

Another reason for the roadability in every 230S: standard equipment in every 230S includes heavy-duty shock absorbers, heavy-duty coil springs, front anti-sway bar, hydro-pneumatic load leveler at the rear axle, and 4-ply, super-premium grade tires. There's no extra charge for a 4-speed floor shift, either.

No gasping or guzzling

Those big V-8's can cruise at 90 mph — at 8 miles per gallon or so. Tiny engines sip fuel, but at 65 mph they're gasping for breath.

The 230S gives you the best of both: its 6-cylinder, single overhead camshaft engine could run at a restful 90 mph for hours, yet doesn't guzzle gas in normal driving.

This design was originally intended for the brutal stresses of racing. The engine is built up to near racing tolerances — as fine as .019 of a millimeter for bearings.

And it's built on a snails-pace assembly line, where sample engine blocks are snatched away at random, chopped in half, and every dimension scientifically measured.

"They don't build them like they used to"

—modern American lament

Mercedes-Benz presents radiator medallions to owners who have clocked 62,500, 125,000, and over 312,000 miles. The demand is steady.

A contributing factor: the 230S body is a rigid steel shell, welded at 10,000 points. This "unit" method of construction makes obsolete the separate frame and body type, with its nuts and bolts and rattles. Sheet metal on many body panels measures a millimeter thick (pound your fist on the 230S roof; you don't feel a wobble, you hear a "thunk!").

The 230S ranks as one of the world's sturdier cars, because Mercedes-Benz ranks as one of the world's stubbornest car builders.

The Mercedes-Benz 230S poses the question—is there such a thing as too much car for the money? Clip coupon for answers.

"A car is not a rolling boudoir, a rocket ship or an oak-paneled library—so it shouldn't look like one!"

—industrial designer

The 230S seats five in considerable comfort. It does not lure you with stereo tape players or 443 color combinations. It doesn't have to:

"The way the switches work, the way the door handles work, the way the seat feels when you get into it, the way the ratchet on the seat recliner feels when you change the seat adjustment—all of those things add up to an overwhelming feeling of luxury."

—David E. Davis Jr.

A word on safety

Mercedes-Benz has received widespread publicity about its safety engineering achievements over the past several years.

Work continues to make Mercedes-Benz cars even safer, both in avoiding trouble, and in protecting you if trouble should occur.

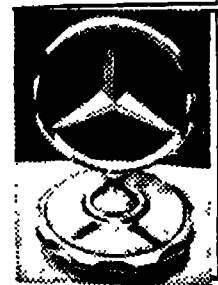

For sane drivers, Mercedes-Benz cars can help reduce the hazards of driving — without dulling its pleasures.

But however well engineered it may be, no car can entirely defend against the show-off, the drunkard, or the neurotic bent on self-destruction. Safety depends on you, too.

Special Committee Appointed to Study Health and Welfare

Outagamie County Residents Begin Long-Term Investigation

Seven Outagamie County residents have been appointed to a special committee which will study the county's health and welfare programs.

One of the purposes of the committee, whose formation has been approved by the Outagamie County Board, was to study the advantages and disadvantages of a possible merger of all of the county's health and welfare institutions and agencies.

Earlier this year, however,

Wisconsin Atty. Gen. Bronson LaFollette ruled that such a consolidation is illegal for counties in the state with a population of less than a half-million. As a result, if the committee decides to recommend consolidation, it would have to be in the form of a recommendation for state legislation.

List of 14
The Appleton Taxpayers Alliance, working with the League of Women Voters, submitted a list of 14 persons to serve on the committee to County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler. From the list, Esler chose seven persons who are:

Vincent Derscheid, an Appleton certified public accountant; Neil McCarthy, a Kaukauna attorney; Harold H. Bressers, Little Chute, a purchasing agent with Allis-Chalmers; Philip Dahlgren, an officer with the Seymour First National Bank; Jack Shepard, Appleton Memorial Hospital administrator; and two medical doctors — Dr. George Behnke, Kaukauna, and Dr. Edward F. Mielke, Appleton.

Board Members
In addition, Esler named two members of the county board to serve on the committee — Eugene Kloes, Appleton, a member of the health, education and institutions committee, and Emmett Root, rural Hortonville, a member of the board of public welfare.

Esler, as county board chairman, will serve as an ex-officio member of the committee.

The study, which will be a long-term process, probably will not be completed until late this year. Results of the study are to be reported to the county board by Dec. 1 with recommendations for a future course of action.

'Justification by Faith' No Longer Basic Point

Theologian Discusses Church Unity During Appleton Clergymen's Meeting

"More difficult theories than justification by faith, will have to be discussed before we can talk about unification," Appleton area clergymen were told this morning.

Speaking on "The Catholic-Protestant Church," at the monthly meeting of the clergymen's association was the Rev. Dr. Douglas Horton, dean emeritus of the Harvard University Divinity School and consultant in theology to the Council of the United Church of Christ.

The minister, who attended the Vatican Council as an official observer and wrote a diary on it, said that the justification theory, which split the church 400 years ago, no longer is a basic point of difference since many Roman clergies now agree with it.

"The questions we have been and will be dealing with involve such ideas as the infallibility of the Pope and the assumption of the Blessed Virgin," he said.

"And we must remember that we simply will have to operate under the idea that anything held dear will not be relinquished easily," he added.

"We aren't attempting to draw up a blueprint for a unified church and nowhere in the documents on ecumenicity has the word 'compromise' been mentioned but we do need to talk together," the minister said.

The Protestants will have to accept the primacy of the Pope and the Catholics, the Protestant churches as they are, he said.

Calls For Unity
"All of us admit there must be a principle of unity, and the Pope symbolizes the oneness of the church, and the Protestants certainly shouldn't forget that in the not too distant past our elders and deacons also were elected for life," Dr. Horton said.

"It would be interesting to see an experiment made in structure to discover where the differences really do lie between the Protestants and Catholics," the minister said.

"Almost anything can happen now after the miracle which has taken place in the last few years and if we witness as much change in the next 50 years as in the past five no one can prophesy what the future will bring," he said.

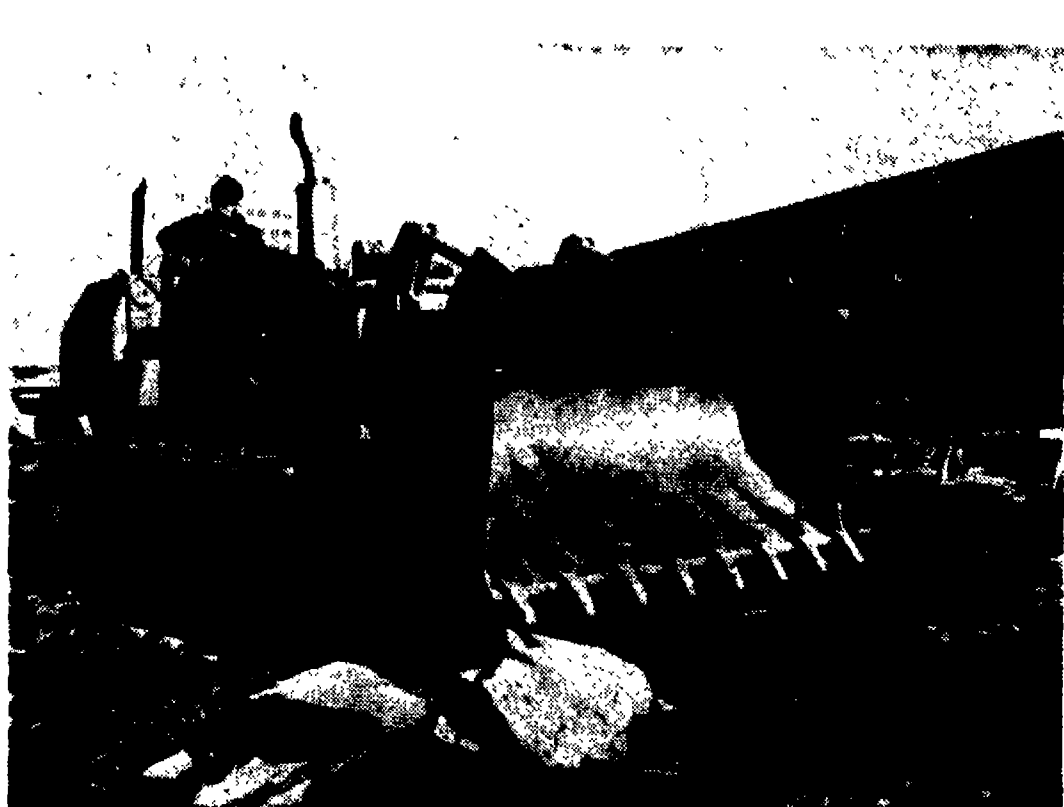

Dr. Horton will speak again at 7:30 p.m. today on "Working for God at So Much an Hour," and on "The Nice Church Getting Into Not Nice Politics," at noon Tuesday.

Thieves Also Damage Equipment at Appleton Parking Ramp Building

Two cameras, a transistor radio, a telephone and about $10 in pennies were taken during a burglary Saturday night or early Sunday at the Standard Construction Co. workhouse at the new Soldiers Square parking ramp.

A company official notified Appleton police of the burglary about 10:55 a.m. Sunday. Entry was gained by forcing a door, police said.

In addition to the thefts, there was considerable vandalism in the building. Surveying equipment was damaged and articles were strewn about.

Exploding Shell Clips Kimberly Boy's Left Ear

A nine-year-old Kimberly boy escaped serious injury Sunday afternoon when he was struck by a fragment of a .22 caliber shell that exploded when it was hit with a nail.

Outagamie County sheriff's investigators said Fred Mader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Mader, 530 Lamers Road, was treated at Kimberly Clinic for a left ear laceration. Police said the piece of shell casing pierced the left ear.

The Mader boy and several other neighborhood youths reportedly were exploding the shells in a field behind the Mader home about 3:30 p.m.

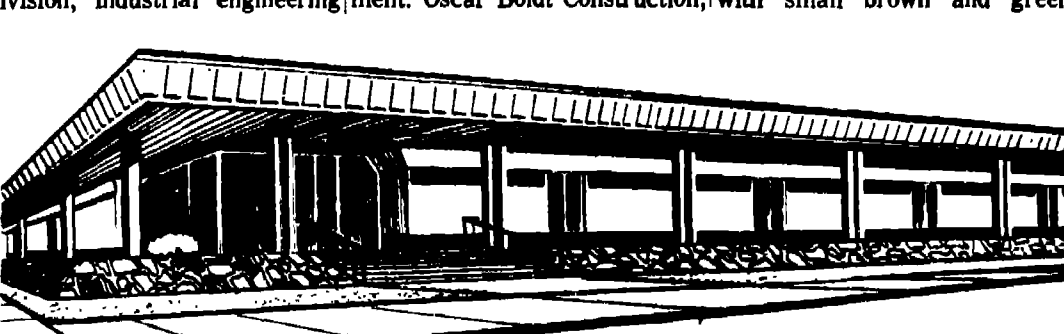

An investigator said the youths held the shells in pliers placed against a rock. The youths then placed nails to the heads of the shells and hit the nail with a hammer, causing the shell to explode. The accident occurred as the third shell exploded, police said.

Damage High In Vandalism At Church

Damage could run as high as $1,000 at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, 2330 E. Calumet St., where vandals threw field stones through 13 large windows Saturday night.

The Rev. Gerard Bretheim, pastor, said this morning that an accurate estimate of damage will not be available until representatives of a local glass company complete their survey.

However, the Rev. Mr. Bretheim said, "We're thinking in terms of $700 to $1,000." Investigating detectives termed it "a severe vandalism situation."

Two Thermopane windows measured 25 by 102 inches. Other broken windows measured 21 by 61 inches, 21 by 73 inches and 22 by 74 inches.

Police, who were notified of the vandalism about 8 p.m. Saturday, said it appeared to be the work of at least two youths. Police found shoe prints in mud around the building.

Police asked help from anyone having information about the vandalism.

Swans Preen for Audience

Flocks Cause Snarl in Traffic Near Shiocton

Neither sirens nor gunshots would move some 200 to 300 white swans that caused Outagamie County police headaches by landing along a heavily traveled highway near Shiocton Sunday afternoon.

Police were called to a large field along State 54, two miles east of Shiocton about 3:20 p.m. Sunday when it was learned that the large flock of swans was creating serious traffic problems.

Police said cars were lined for some distance along the highway as people took pictures and observed the birds. Police attempted unsuccessfully to move the birds from along the road by shooting into the air and sounding the sirens on their squad cars. Some of the birds moved a short distance, but returned to the field near the road.

Patrolmen could only remain at the scene and settle for directing the heavy traffic until the birds decided to move onto another field some two hours later.

Sgt. William Block of the county police said it was the first time in his 16 years on the patrol that he has seen the large birds create a traffic problem as serious as the one Sunday. He said the flocks that land usually are smaller.

Campus Fund Fight Goes to Legislature

Legislators Being Watched On Annexation

Buckley Says Cities Alert to Action on Procedure Change

Appleton's Mayor George Buckley said today the actions of Fox Cities region legislators are being watched in connection with Bill 210-S, written to update Wisconsin's annexation laws.

Buckley made the statement as he signed his support to a resolution favoring passage of the annexation bill introduced in both the State Senate and the Assembly — the latter by Assemblyman Harold Froehlich, R-Appleton.

"I intend to ask the city council to vote its all-out endorsement of this pending legislation in keeping with what is best for urbanized areas," Buckley declared.

He notified the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, as requested that as mayor of Appleton he is in full accord with the bill which would change the present procedure in annexing unincorporated town territory.

Buckley predicted the state legislators would eventually pass a new annexation bill, commenting, "There are just too many cities in the state with the centers of population that are getting hurt by the present antiquated laws that protect outmoded town governments."

"I feel the city people are watching proposed annexation legislation very closely and will be waiting to see how their respective representatives in the legislature respond," Buckley declared.

Buckley said the city councils of several other Wisconsin cities have endorsed Bill 210-S in recent weeks.

It has the full support of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities, which represents cities and villages, but is under heavy fire from the Suburban League towns group.

The 20-city Alliance of Cities, comprised of an estimated 2 million population, also favors the new annexation legislation.

Building Commission Approves Building Plan Which May Total $33.3 Million if It Is Passed

Brown and Kenosha counties in 1970 and the higher cost levels caused by the increased enrollments, the Building Commission, without further delay, will make the funds available, up to $33.3 million.

Present authorized level of construction funds is $12.8 million, based on plans for only third and fourth year operations in 1969 and 1970.

Leonard had presented the position taken earlier by the University Affairs Subcommittee to the full commission, headed by Gov. Warren Knowles, when Martin objected.

The legislature, in creating the new schools, did not intend four-year operations to begin so quickly, Martin maintained.

Leonard tried to persuade Martin that the action by the commission would only bring the four-year scheduling before the legislature and would not constitute endorsement by the powerful funding authority.

Martin Holds Firm

But Martin could not be persuaded.

Leonard then offered his alternative based on Martin's objections after Martin had offered a motion calling upon the commission to reaffirm the $12.8 million construction plans.

The compromise staved off consideration of that proposal.

Knowles agreed with Leonard that the subcommittee proposal would allow the legislature to determine educational policy for the state. Such is not the responsibility of the building commission, Knowles maintained.

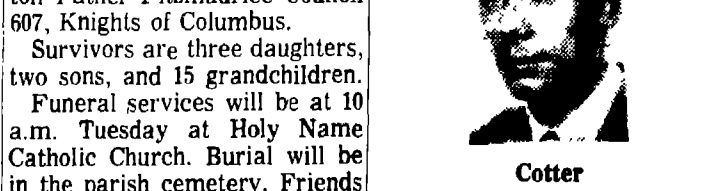

"This is exactly the point I have been trying to get over to the people of Green Bay and Parkside — that we do not make educational policy on this commission," the governor said.

"There is no question that we are going to go to a four-year university. The bodies are there to supply the enrollment. But we need legislative direction," the governor said.

Sen. Robert W. Warren, R-Green Bay, termed the move "a failure on the part of the building commission to realistically meet the flood of new students that they can expect on these campuses in 1970."

American Cancer Society

Outagamie Delegates At Crusade Kickoff

Ten representatives of the Outagamie County unit were among more than 200 American Cancer Society Volunteers attended the Wisconsin Division Cured Cancer Assembly and 1967 Crusade kickoff in Madison, Sunday to hear V. J. Skutt, chairman of the board, Mutual of Omaha Insurance Co., the 1967 National Crusade Chairman for the American Cancer Society.

Skutt said, "We have concluded that the most important single life-saving task we can help in at the moment is the defeat of mankind's major scourge, cancer. There are two ways this can be done. The first is through education in detection and prevention — the second is through providing funds and encouragement for research in the causes and cure of cancer."

Robert J. Samp, M.D., University of Wisconsin Medical School was the moderator. Dr. Samp introduced two special guests Terri Eggert, Berlin, 1967 Wisconsin division poster child, and Sharon Reigstad, the Wisconsin division teen-age anti-smoking chairman.

Raymond Brown, Ph.D., associate director, Division of Clinical Oncology, University of Wisconsin, noted that the society, as of March 1, has invested $664,717 in research at the university.

William B. Hobbins, M.D., Madison, president Dane unit, spoke on the hopeful side of cancer noting that cancer is very curable when detected early and treated properly.

Alcoholism Services Sets New By-Laws

Give Authority To Directors for Governing Policy

Citizens Alcoholism Services, Inc., the new agency formed to deal with the complications of alcoholism in Appleton and Outagamie County, has approved a set of bylaws.

In an effort to avoid unnecessary meetings members decided the dates shall be set as determined by the board of directors, with the exception of the annual meeting which will be the second Monday of each March.

The board of directors was delegated as the governing and policy making group of the corporation, but the membership has final authority on budget approval, operation and administration.

Standing committees include membership, public information, education, service and legislation and finance.

Encourage Coordination

The service committee will encourage the coordination of existing and new services, including information and referral services, treatment in general hospitals, program in local industry and through labor organizations, program as part of school curriculum and preparing the program for a coordinator who eventually will be responsible for the full range of services to the sick alcoholic.

One section of the bylaws is devoted to confidentiality, since it was the feeling of the members that the name or activity of any alcoholic, family members and personal data should be treated in confidence, inside and outside the membership. This practice follows that of most professional social agencies.

As authorized in the bylaws, the president Patrick Toal, will select the members of the committees, and present them at the next meeting.

Survey Work Done For K-C Clarifier

NEENAH — All survey work has been completed for the $250,000 waste water clarifier at the Neenah Mill of Kimberly-Clark Corp. and bid invitations to contractors will be sent out about the middle of this month, according to Fred Hollenbeck, general manager.

It is hoped that the contract for this stream improvement project can be awarded about May 1 and actual construction started in May.

Major mechanical equipment has been ordered from Elmo

Corp., Salt Lake City, and the firm has promised delivery by August 4. Excavation and all preliminary concrete work will be completed by the time the mechanism arrives so that it can be put in place immediately.

Bid invitations already have been sent to manufacturers for the pumps and motors. These items normally have long delivery times, so the process of getting them was started even before the contract is let for the clarifier itself. The delivery of this equipment could be the determining factor on when the clarifier actually starts operation.

The final design calls for a 125-foot unit. Donohue and Associates of Sheboygan are the engineering consultants.

After the clarifier has been built, Kimberly-Clark will have spent more than $800,000 for stream improvement at its mills bordering Little Lake Butte des Morts.

More money has been budgeted to continue dredging of the sludge bank along a portion of the Little Lake Butte des Morts west shoreline. When the clarifier is completed no new sludge bank will form. Wood fibers that now escape into the lake and settle to form the sludge bank will be trapped by the clarifier.

New Trial Granted for 2 In Rape Case

OSHKOSH — County Judge James V. Sitter this morning granted a new trial to two 19-year-old Oshkosh men who were found guilty of rape by a jury Jan. 14.

Judge Sitter told the defendants the jury had not heard all of the evidence and the jury might have applied the wrong test of guilt because his instructions to the jury were too brief. He said he granted their motion for a new trial "in the interest of justice."

The defendants, Vernon L. Kellenhofer, 212A Oxford Ave., and Milton J. Viergut, 1787 Jefferson St., will appear in court Tuesday morning, when a new trial date will be set and a motion for a lower bond will be heard.

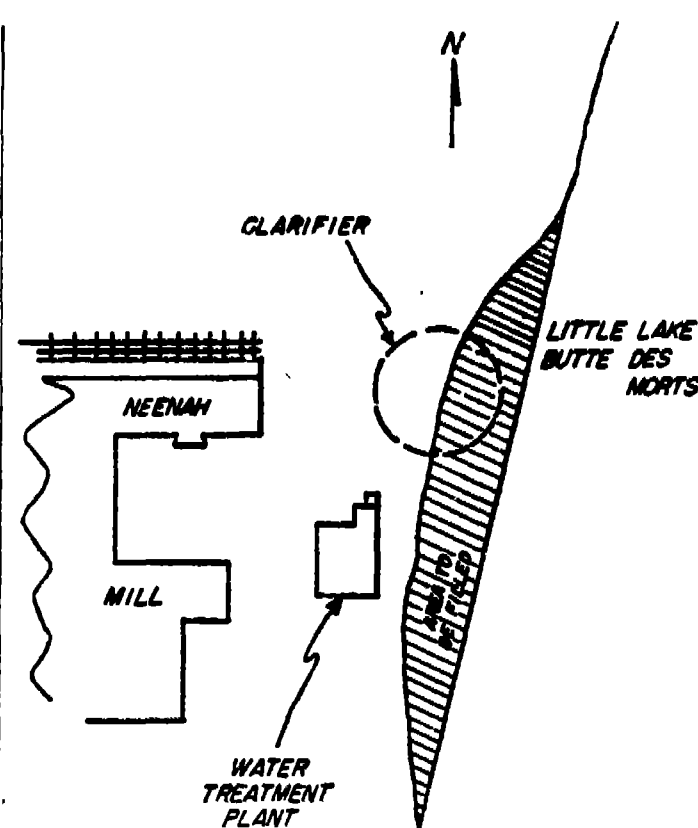

Judge Sitter removed himself from the case this morning. He said he could not be impartial in further proceedings because "he knows too much about the case."

Police Study Theft of Beer in New London

Outagamie County sheriff's investigators are studying the theft of about 25 to 30 dozen packs of beer Saturday night from Brown's beer warehouse at the south edge of New London.

Entry into the warehouse was gained by breaking a window. The burglary and theft was reported Sunday.

Teachers Plan 2nd Protest

Expected to Join Menasha Union Other Area Locals

MEENASHA — Another bid for support will be made today by members of the Menasha Teachers Union, Local 1186 AFL-CIO when teachers from affiliated locals with Wisconsin Federation of Teachers and local teachers attend the board of education meeting at 7 p.m. today.

Members of Local 1186 were given a vote of confidence Friday when the Fox Valley Council of Teachers Unions (FVCTU) at its Fond du Lac meeting passed a resolution that members of FVCTU "and its individual members shall further support and participate directly in any public demonstration called by the MTU 1166."

"We will, in addition, encourage our colleagues in each of the school districts here represented, to do likewise in order to demonstrate our unity and determination to this goal."

Goal of Education

The goal referred to is contained, in part, in the resolution. "Quality education is considered the FVCTU's primary concern. We have observed, with increasing alarm the development of education attitudes which will ultimately result in destruction of desirable education practices and the downgrading of already established standards of excellence to which all teachers subscribe."

A delegation, estimated to number 50 persons or more, will attend the board of education meeting tonight. This will include teachers who are members of WFT locals in Two Rivers, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Appleton, Green Bay Vocational Schools and members of Menasha's Local 1166.

This support will be adding impetus, it is alleged, to MTU 1166's demands that marathon negotiations on the 1967-68 teachers contracts be immediately resumed.

No Progress

Efforts to come to terms for the new teaching contract have involved six months of secret negotiating between teams from the board of education and the union. In March the Wisconsin

Railway Tells City:

Hope to Avoid Lengthy Blocking of Crossing

The Chicago North Western Railway Co. has informed Appleton city officials it will do everything possible to avoid blocking of crossings for any length of time.

F. V. Koval, Chicago, director of public relations for the railroad, wrote in response to the recent complaint to the mayor and city council that the railroad blocked a crossing for several minutes here on March 21.

"We regret very much the inconvenience caused to you and others by a freight train moving over the Franklin and Division Street crossing on March 21 from 7:40 a.m. to 7:55 a.m., coincident with the traffic rush period," Koval said.

He explained the train serves many of the Fox Valley industries and normally leaves Appleton in the early morning hours, well before the traffic rush program.

"Unfortunately, on the day in question the making up of the train was unavoidably detained," Koval said.

Copies of his letter were also sent to J. A. Stanz, 1732 N. Eugene St., who headed up a list of 35 complaining Appleton citizens; and the Wisconsin Public Service Commission.

"You may be assured our operating forces, in their efforts to provide prompt service to the industries in the area, will do everything possible to avoid a recurrence of the situation you described in your letter of March 31," Koval concluded.

Hearing Set in Appleton on Fox River Bulkhead Lines

A public hearing on Appleton's request to revise Fox River bulkhead line boundaries between Lawe and Carpenter Streets will be conducted at the city hall by the Wisconsin Public Service Commission Thursday.

The hearing, the second in recent months concerning bulkhead realignments, will get underway at 8:30 a.m.

The latest bulkhead revision is being sought by the city along the south shore of the river at a low spot at the east end of the Fox River Paper Co. property.

Previously, the PSC approved an ordinance which established a bulkhead line along the south shore of the Fox between Lawe and Memorial Drive.

Fill from the College Avenue excavation will be used to revise the bulkhead lines. Some of it is being dumped in the area of the Appleton Machine Co. property at the edge of the river.

Woman Doesn't Like to be Robbed

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Two men walked into a small neighborhood grocery store in Pittsburgh's Beltzhoover section Sunday and approached Margaret Kubisiak, the counter.

"Do you wish to be waited on?" asked Mrs. Kubisiak.

One man pulled out a pistol. "No," he said, "I want money."

"No," replied Mrs. Kubisiak. "I'm not fooling," he said.

"Neither am I."

"I've got a gun."

"So do I," she said, and pointed a tear gas pellet gun at the man.

He and his companion left. "I don't care for that type," said Mrs. Kubisiak later.

Driver Suffers Head Bruises

Appleton Motorist Hospitalized After Car Leaves Road

Loren A. Lawrence, 58, 1425 W. Second St., suffered head injuries when his 1967 station wagon ran off Mayflower Drive, about 11:45 p.m. Saturday.

Lawrence was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital by ambulance. Outagamie County police said his car was northbound on Mayflower when it went into the ditch. The Appleton man remained hospitalized today.

Dennis N. Vosters, 17, route 4, suffered back and left knee injuries when his car left County Trunk N at Greiner Road about 1 a.m. Saturday.

Southbound on N Police said the car, southbound on N, struck a driveway culvert, flew into the air, struck a second culvert and came to rest in a ditch. Two road signs were damaged in the accident. Vosters told police he "must have fallen asleep."

Police identified the driver of a car that struck a bicyclist on State 55 Saturday afternoon as David L. DeGrave, 64, 217 E. 17th St., Kaukauna. Ricky Siebers, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Siebers, 637 Joyce St., Kaukauna, was taken to Kaukauna Community Hospital by Larry's Ambulance after his bicycle was struck by DeGrave's car about 4:40 p.m. on State 55, near County Trunk CC.

DeGrave told police he was southbound on 55 when the bicycle came off the shoulder of the road into the path of his auto. The bicycle flew onto the hood of the car, then tumbled off when the car stopped. The Siebers boy suffered head and leg injuries.

MENASHA — Hundreds of persons thronged the hall of the University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley Center Sunday afternoon, as oil and watercolor paintings, sculpture and photographs went on display as part of the Fox Valley Regional Arts and Crafts Show.

The show will continue through this week, during university hours, and conclude Saturday with a comprehensive one-day art workshop.

Milwaukee Man Fined $100 For Incident in Church

A 34-year-old Milwaukee man whom police said was in an Appleton church with a gun Sunday morning, today was fined $100 and costs or 48 days in jail after he pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct.

Melvin A. Gustafson, who said he took a bus to Appleton recently and who listed a temporary address as 404 N. Appleton St., took a .22 caliber pistol out of his coat pocket as he sat in a rear pew Sunday morning at First Baptist Church, 233 N. Appleton St.

He gave the gun to Herman Weinberger, 1520 W. Franklin St., chief usher, who talked to Gustafson when it appeared the Milwaukee man was intoxicated.

In handing the gun to Weinberger, Gustafson said, "Here, take this gun and do something with it. I do not want any trouble." Weinberger took the gun to the pastor's office and it later was given to an off duty policeman who called the police station. An empty half pint whiskey bottle also was found on Gustafson.

The Milwaukee man appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2. He was held in the city jail until his court appearance.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincerest thanks and appreciation for the many kindnesses showered upon us by friends (and some we may have thought otherwise), neighbors and relatives during the recent illness and bereavement of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Lucille Pocan.

The Brown Funeral Chapel for the same kindness and help we previously received.

Dr. James Laird for all the help he gave our Mom now and over the years. For his part in giving us something to remember her with and help keep us together.

Marie Wendt, who built the home to try and make things easier for her and which she loved so much. We wish she could have enjoyed it much longer.

The Gilbert Paper Co., who have so generously recommended my working hours so I can try and give our 5-year-old daughter a better life.

My sister-in-law, Eleanor Hickey, as she took care of most of the arrangements. I don't know what I would have done without her.

I would also like to thank the many who offered to help with our 5-year-old daughter. I feel I have to try to do this myself as we were all so close and I don't feel anyone can take her mother's place. Her big brother and I are going to and do our best. Thanks again to everyone.

Hope Is Back For 39th Oscar Awards

3-Conclusion (Channels 11-4-9) — The 39th Annual Awards Presentation of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. Bob Hope again hosts the star-studded affair from the Civic Auditorium in Santa Monica, Calif. Oscar presenters include Frank Sinatra, Lee

At press time, the AFTRA strike had been tentatively settled, pending ratification of the agreement by AFTRA members. If the agreement was ratified, the Academy Awards presentation will be on as listed. If the agreement was not ratified, this show — and possibly others — will not be aired.

Remick, Audrey Hepburn, Ginger Rogers, Dick Van Dyke and Mary Tyler Moore, Rosalind Russell, Rock Hudson, Vanessa Redgrave, Fred Astaire and many others.

7:30-8 (Channels 2-7-12) — Charlie Brown's All-Stars, another showing of last year's top-rated cartoon special on Charles Schulz' beguiling Peanuts characters, is a winner in every way. Good old Charlie has just pitched his 999th consecutive loss and is deserted by his baseball team — Lucy, Pigpen, Linus and Snoopy. Lucy is especially outraged and her nagging becomes almost unbearable. But Snoopy steals the show, again, gritting his teeth at bat and whizzing along on skate and surfboard.

6:30-7 (Channel 5) — The Monkees journey to the sidewalks of New York believing their Broadway success has been assured by a "boy wonder" producer. 6:30-7:30 (Channels 11-4-9) — "The Dynamite Drive" on Iron Horse is reminiscent of the plots for Rawhide and The Wild West. Yet it stands on its own as a brittle adventure. Would-be railroad baron Dale Robertson dodges dynamite as if it were tumbled in his effort to deliver some cattle on time.

8-9:30 (Channels 11-4-9) — An old plot given new life is the best descriptive for Felony Squad's story tonight. This is the one about the policeman who is implicated in a crime although he has always led an exemplary life before. Detective Jim Briggs is the victim.

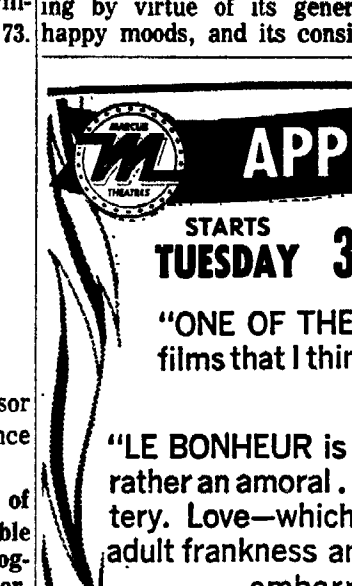

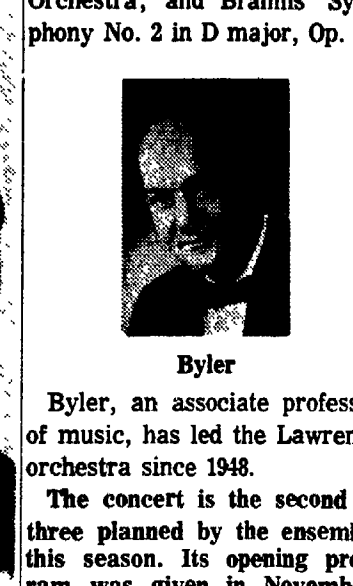

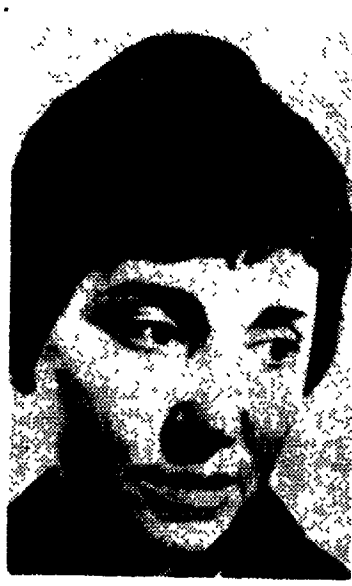

8-9 (Channels 4-5) — Old Mexico, filled with hot sun, bloodier revolutionaries, is the setting for tonight's The Road West. It begins with Ben and Tim on a cattle buying tour south of the border, rescuing two peons from an ambush.

8:30-9 (Channels 2-7-12) — A long-awaited event finally happens on Family Affair with the return of French in the portly person of Sebastian Cabot. Looking none the worse for his recent hospitalization, Cabot is his old self-assured and responsible self in a catchy little yarn about a lamb which the twins win in a raffle.

9-10 (Channels 4-5) — Although Run For Your Life has often been characterized by small stories with big acting, that situation is somewhat reversed tonight. The rather engrossing tale is about an Asian border war and of three people who are caught up in it. Bryan along with two attractive American women, a psychologist and a tourist, are taken by a group of soldiers to their headquarters at the front.

Special Events Wisconsin University Piano Quartet — (tonight) Special Events series held by Lawrence University, open free to the public, 8 p.m., Harper Hall, Music-Drama Center.

Make a Simple Device to Improve Your Drawings

BY CAPPY DICK

Boys and girls who like to draw can improve the results of their work by adopting some of the tricks professional artists have learned through experience.

One of these tricks is the clever use of a triangle as a means of controlling the drawing pencil, charcoal or crayons when applying lines of shading to a picture. Ordinarily it is difficult to bring the shading lines right up to the edge of the drawing, neither stopping short nor going beyond. This problem can be overcome by holding the triangle at the edge of the picture with one hand while using the shading tool with the other as the boy is doing in the illustration above.

Also, in the absence of a T-square, a triangle can be used to make the horizontal lines of shading straight, if that is desired. This is accomplished by placing one right-angle edge of the triangle even with the side of the drawing and running the shading tool along the horizontal right-angle edge. For the next line of shading, move the triangle down a fraction of an inch, still keeping it lined up with the side of the picture, and draw another line.

The result of this use of a triangle can be a very neat appearance of the completed picture.

A painter has a ladder which, when placed flat against the side of a house, just reaches a certain window. Being, of course, unable to use this ladder, the painter uses a second ladder which, when placed with its foot 9 feet from the side of the house, exactly reaches that certain window. If the second ladder is 3 feet longer than the first ladder, how long is this second ladder and how high is the window?

Answer

The second ladder is 15 feet long, and the window is 12 feet high.

Brewer Says 20-Foot Putt Ignited Drive

Talks Himself Out Of Nervousness In Home Stretch

By RON SPEER

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Gay Brewer Jr. may be on top of the world but his striking wife says she's in heaven.

"Nobody could feel better about him winning the Masters than I do, not even Gay," the tanned brunette said after her husband wiped out speculation that he choked in the big tournaments.

"I was just sick last year when he missed that putt," Mrs. Brewer said. "It really upset me. I was still worried about it this time when he came up to the 18th."

Brewer three-putted the final green, missing a five-footer that would have given him the title, on the final hole of the 1966 Masters.

'Not a Word'

"When we walked to our car he told me 'I muffed it,'" Mrs. Brewer said. "We haven't talked about it since then — not a word."

"But of course we both thought about it, and when we came to the Masters this time it brought up a lot of bad memories."

Mrs. Brewer said she didn't think Gay was too nervous in the final round, when he shot a 67 and won the title by a stroke over an old boyhood golfing pal, Bobby Nichols.

"But I was a bundle of nerves," she said. "You can't imagine how I feel about him winning. It was just wonderful."

Gay thought it was pretty nice, too, calling himself the "happiest man to ever win it."

"After leading the tournament by a stroke and then three-putting the 18th green last year, I wanted to prove I could win a big tournament," said Brewer, who has claimed nine titles but never before had won a major tournament.

Brewer, who won the title with deadly putting, said he was still using the same putter that betrayed him a year ago.

"It wasn't the putter's fault," he said.

Brewer said he was ignited by a 20-foot curling putt he dropped for a birdie on the 14th hole, and he sank a 10-foot birdie shot on the 15th.

Heading into the homestretch, Brewer said "I got so nervous"

White Sox Deal Cubs 6-3 Loss

Holtzman Suffers Defeat in Final Exhibition Game

CHICAGO (AP) —The Chicago White Sox, who won the Florida Grapefruit title, then dropped the first two games of their city series with the Chicago Cubs, closed out the spring exhibition season for both clubs with a 6-3 victory in Comiskey Park Sunday.

The White Sox took a 2-0 lead with an unearned run in the third inning off loser Ken Holtzman and never fell behind.

The Cubs' Glenn Beckert hit the game's only home run in the top of the third inning. The White Sox added two runs in the fifth inning, ignited by Don Buford's triple.

The Cubs got two runs off Tommy John in the seventh, but the Sox matched this in the eighth.

Havlicek, Jones Keep Playoff Chances Alive

By LARRY ELDRIDGE

BOSTON (AP) — Alex Hannum came to bury the Celtics but wound up praising them.

"The Celtics were magnificent," Hannum said after Boston's nationally televised 121-117 victory Sunday prevented a sweep by the Philadelphia 76ers in the Eastern Division final playoffs. The triumph kept alive the Celtics' faint hopes for a ninth straight National Basketball Association title.

But the 76ers, leading 3-1 as the best-of-7 series moves back to Philadelphia for a game Tuesday, were confident that the funeral oration will be delivered there.

"We don't want to wrap it up in Philly," Hannum said in a dressing room interview shortened because of an earlier threatening telephone call. The threat was apparently by a crank but the Philadelphia coach was given police protection before, during and after the game as a precaution.

The sellout Garden crowd of 13,909 disagreed.

"We ain't dead," they chanted in retaliation to the cries of "Boston is dead" which ran through Philadelphia's Convention Hall last Wednesday night as the 76ers won their third straight game.

Double Attack Sam Jones and John Havlicek led Boston's attack with 32 and 31 points, respectively.

Jones, the veteran backcourt star, came up with two big plays in the closing seconds — banking in a 10-footer to give the Celtics a 117-114 lead, then stealing the ball and cashing two free throws.

"Those were the key plays," Player-Coach Bill Russell said. "That was a real big game Sam played."

Russell's work against Wilt Chamberlain also was a factor. The 7-foot-1 Philadelphia super-

The baseball season opened today with all the pomp and pageantry of a presidential tradition in Washington and the traditional National League first game at Cincinnati.

In Washington, the Senators entertained the New York Yankees, with President Johnson a somewhat doubtful starter to throw out the first pitch.

And in Cincinnati, the Reds hosted the National League champion Los Angeles Dodgers, who knew for sure they wouldn't have Sandy Koufax around for the first pitch.

The Dodgers, who rode Koufax' arthritic left arm to two straight pennants, sent Bob Miller, 4-2 last year, to the mound against the Reds' Jim Maloney, 16-8. Koufax, of course, has retired to the world of television.

President Johnson had a busy day planned in Washington and it wasn't clear right up until gametime (1:30 P.M. EST) whether he would be able to throw out the traditional first ball.

Yankees' Mel Stottlemyre, 12-20.

The 16 other major league teams open their season Tuesday with four games scheduled in each league.

Pittsburgh will pitch Bob Veale, 16-12, at New York against the Mets' Don Cardwell, 6-6, a former Pirate.

Philadelphia opens at Chicago with Jim Bunning, the Phillies ace at 19-14 last year, against the Cubs prodigy, Ken Holtzman, 11-16.

Denny Lemaster, 11-8, goes for Atlanta in Houston against the Astros' Mike Cuellar, 12-10. San Francisco will pitch Juan Marichal, 23-6, against Bob Gibson, 21-12, at St. Louis.

Cleveland opens with Sam McDowell, 12-8, or Steve Hargan, 13-10, against Kansas City's rookie flash, Jim Nash, 12-1. Detroit sends Denny McLain, 20-14, against the Angels' George Brunet, 13-13, at California.

Minnesota opens at Baltimore with Jim Kaat, 25-13, opposing Dave McNally, 13-6. Chicago will have either John Buzhardt, 6-11, or Bruce Howard, 9-5, going against the Red Sox' Jim Lonborg, 10-10, at Boston.

Brewer Erases Memories With 1-Shot Masters Win

Breaks 7-Year Stranglehold of Golf's 'Big 3' With Final Round Of 67; Nichols Finishes Second

By BOB GREEN

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — "Only great golfers win the Masters," said Bobby Jones to Gay Brewer. "That's why I'm happy you won it — you're a great golfer."

"I'm choking up," said Brewer.

"You don't choke and win this tournament," said Jones, the immortal Grand Seaman.

He was right. Brewer didn't choke. Dubbed "the man who will never come back," he had lived for a year with the nightmare of a hanging putt that never fell.

He wiped out that dreadful memory Sunday in a sweeping charge over the lush green acres of Augusta National, coming from two strokes back, climbing over three men and winning the 31st Masters with a brilliant, five-under-par 67 for 280.

"I may be the happiest man in history to win the Masters," the graying, 35-year-old tour regular said after he had broken the seven-year stranglehold of the Big Three — Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player — on the prestigious event.

Nicklaus, three-time champion and winner of two in a row, failed to make the cut for the last two rounds. Palmer, a four-time champion, finished with a 69 for 285 and fourth place. Player, the little South African who won in 1961, finished with 71 for 287 and a share of sixth.

"Something Special" "The Masters is really something special for me," the six-foot, hard-hitting Brewer said, "especially after last year. I really wanted to win this one. I wanted to prove to myself that I had it in me to do it."

Brewer, who had never before won a major tournament, came within a fraction of an inch of it in the 1966 Masters. He went to the 18th tee with a one stroke lead and was on the green in two.

Needing only a par to win, he three-putted from 40 feet, leaving a five-foot par putt — the one that would have won it — hanging on the lip of the cup.

Warriors May Have to Play Without Barry

Scoring Star Has Ankle Injury, as Teams Meet Tonight

By CHARLES BAROUH
ST. LOUIS (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors return to the comforts of home with the discomforting possibility that they may have to play the St. Louis Hawks without Rick Barry.

San Francisco's super scoring machine sprained the ligaments in his left ankle Saturday night while driving for a basket in the fourth game of the National Basketball Association's Western Division final playoffs. The Hawks won 109-104 and evened the best-of-7 series at two games apiece.

Dr. James Raggio, the Warriors' team physician, said X-rays disclosed the sprain but showed no torn ligaments. Whether Barry would play in the fifth game tonight would remain in doubt until game time, Raggio said.

Serious Blow
Bill Sharman, Warrior coach, acknowledged Barry's loss would be a serious blow to the Warriors' chances but he remained confident.

"I still think we should win it if we play our game, even without Barry," Sharman said. "We have overcome adversity in the past," he said, pointing out the Warriors played five weeks of the regular season without their big center, Nate Thurmond.

"What has hurt us most is being in foul trouble," Sharman said. "The players are afraid of fouls on offensive rebounds and when they drive. We've been cold shooting and not enough rebounding."

Hawks' Player-Coach Richie Guerin, buoyed by St. Louis' performance, predicted, "This is the last trip" to San Francisco. After the fifth game Monday night, the playoffs return to St. Louis Wednesday. If a seventh game is necessary, it would be played Friday in San Francisco.

Some Changes
"I had confidence the first time we went to San Francisco," Guerin said. "Now we've made some changes on defense."

The player-coach emphasized he felt those changes were important in the Hawks' two victories. He especially singled out Joe Caldwell for his work against Barry.

Sharman said he was not surprised that the Hawks came back after losing the first two games in San Francisco.

"I figured it would be a close series," he said. "If we're going to win we'll just have to run more. We have to get more fast breaks."

Ryun Quits Two-Mile, But Leads Kansas to Win in Medley Relay

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Jim Ryun pulled out of the two-mile because of an aching side in the 39th annual Southwestern Relays Saturday, but came back two hours later to help his Kansas University team win the distance medley relay.

Ryun, the 19-year-old track ace, ran the three-quarter in a creditable 3:00.7 and the Kansas team finished with a 10:01.1.

Earlier he had said, "It's just one of those things," when asked about dropping out of the two-mile.

Ray Runs 'Century' in :09.2

Emerges as New Sprint Star

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky State sprinter Clarence Ray may joke himself into setting a world record in the 100-yard dash.

Ray ran the fastest century so far this year when he was clocked at 9.2 in a preliminary heat at the University of Kentucky Relays during the week-end only one-tenth second off Bob Hayes' world record of 9.1.

After running a 9.5 two weeks ago, Ray's previous best time, the 6-foot-1 junior from Detroit said he jokingly predicted he would run "a 9.2 or 9.3 at the UK meet."

"But I was really surprised when it became a reality," Ray said.

Ray said a major factor in his victory was being able to reach his maximum speed quicker.

Burst at End
"I was a step or two behind the leader at 40 yards," Ray said. "Then I picked up my maximum speed and just carried on through. I usually don't get maximum speed until about 80 yards and finish with a sudden burst."

Ray said he was also "in a good psychological frame of mind" for the race and that he had worked especially hard on his starts last week.

"Coach Bill Exum said it had good technique but my starts were just slow," he said. "So I took 15-20 extra starts last week and they really helped."

Coatta Looking to Fill Quarterback as UW Opens Spring Practice

MADISON (AP) — New Coach John Coatta begins tinkering Tuesday with the football machine he hopes will carry Wisconsin back to Big Ten respectability as the Badgers open their annual spring drills.

"It will be like any other spring practice. You will have to find out who wants to play and who will help you most next fall," said Coatta, who was named to succeed his former boss Milt Bruhn after a 3-6-1 1966 season.

"We hope to develop techniques and stress fundamental football," he said. "The rest pretty much takes care of itself."

Coatta's major jobs will be rebuilding the graduation-stripped offensive line and settling on a No. 1 quarterback. He must also sort the skills of a Grade A assortment of freshmen to find the ones that will best fit into the 1967 scheme of things.

Top Receivers
The key freshman may well be Mel Reddick of Chicago, a former Illinois All-State receiver. If Reddick comes through, he could team with Tom McCauley to give the Badgers one of the most dangerous pass catching combinations in the Big Ten.

McCauley proved himself with an all times brilliant sophomore season. He caught 46 passes for 689 yards.

The Superior, Wis., product will be missing from spring drills along with lettermen Tom Schinke and Don Schaffner. All three are on the baseball team.

Coatta must find the quarterback who can get the ball to McCauley, Reddick and company and the linemen who can provide time for the passer to get the ball away.

One of the top freshman candidates is also a quarterback, Lew Ritcherson, son of assistant coach Les Ritcherson.

These include linebackers Lucius Blair, John Borders and Don Murphy, the latter a former All-Wisconsin lineman at La Crosse Aquinas.

Halfback Stu Voigt, a high school shot putting and football star from Madison, and linemen Dave O'Brien and Len Fields are also considered prime prospects.

Coatta has a nucleus of 25 lettermen to rebuild from. Center Wally Schoessow is the only returning offensive lineman but back from the defense are Tom Donmes and Don Bliss, tackles, Bill Grisley and Ed Hoffman, guards, Gary Swale and John Tietz, ends, and linebackers Ken Criter and Sam Wheeler.

Todd, Buss Return
The top returning running back is Wayne Todd, a sophomore, but also back are Lynn Buss, of Wausau, John Wood, Bill Yanakos, Gale Bucciarelli and Dick Schmitsch.

Back in the defensive secondary besides Schinke, are Mike Cavill, Gary Reineck and Walt Riddlon.

The Badgers will play four intra-squad games this season instead of the usual one. The first will be April 22 at West Allis. Others will be at Neshanic April 29, Eau Claire May 6, and at Madison May 13.

Sheets Slams 703 Count in Open Bowling

Ed Sheets, secretary of the Cocktail Couples League which bowled Saturday night at Sabre Lanes, is wishing today he would not have bowled a week ahead of the rest of the league.

to keep his records complete. While waiting for the bowlers to finish he decided to roll three games and promptly came through with a booming 703 series.

Starting with a 256 game, Sheets followed with a 235 and closed out with a 212 for the 703 total.

The scores cannot count as a national honor set because they were not rolled in sanctioned league competition.

Haber Repeats as Handball Champion
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Paul Haber of San Francisco reigns again as national open handball champion.

Haber won out over Bill Yambrick of St. Paul, Minn., in a hard-fought tournament final Saturday, 21-16, 21-20. Yambrick once gained an 18-13 advantage over the defending champion but couldn't hold off Haber at the finish.

Joan Kolosso Rips Sixth National Set

Pounds 609 in TV Sparemakers Couples Circuit at Sabre Lanes

Joan Kolosso, who has been setting a torrid pace on Fox Cities bowling lanes this season, did it again as she belted her sixth national honor count of the season with a 609 in the TV Sparemakers League at Sabre Lanes Sunday night.

Mrs. Kolosso's series started with a 193 game, followed by lines of 213 and 203.

Her national sets this season have included scores of 648, highest in the area; 616, 613, 613, 612 and last night's 609. She have been different," said Reay. "And when they scored while short-handed, that really gave them a lift."

Bobby Hull, Chicago's Golden Jet, said his injured knee was no worse but "I'm still not skating." Doug Mohns said his back ailment seemed better but he suffered another injury when he got cut by a stick above the right hip.

In the Montreal-New York semifinal series, which shifts to Madison Square Garden Tuesday night, the Rangers hope home ice will help them break into the victory column against the streaking Canadiens.

Montreal trimmed the visiting Rangers 3-1 last Saturday afternoon on third-period goals by John Ferguson and Ralph Backstrom after winning the series opener 6-4 with a five-goal burst in the last 11 minutes.

Matson Nears World Marks In Disc, Shot

Throws in Texas Relays Within 2 Inches of Records

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—There are those that believe Texas A&M's world champion shotputter, Randy Matson, may be better at hurling the discus than he is heaving the 16-pound iron ball.

Matson, who holds the world record in the shot with a toss of 70-7/4, put on a tremendous display of muscle Saturday in both the shot and the discus.

He flipped the discus 213-9/4 inches, only 2 inches under the existing world mark of 213-11/2 held by Ludvik Danek of Czechoslovakia.

Matson, competing in a triangular meet, also threw the shot 70-5/8 twice and had a third throw of an even 70 feet.

"I thought in high school the discus would be his best event," said Baylor track coach Clyde Hart. "And I think it is because of the distances he has thrown in relation to the time he has put in on it. I think he'd be throwing 220 now if he had worked on it."

Col. Frank Anderson, retired coach at Texas A&M, said he believes Matson, who is only 22, can improve in both departments.

"I think if he shifts a little more weight to the left foot, he'll really put it out," Anderson said. "He isn't really shifting his weight to his left foot. He's exploding just a little early."

"My main event is still the shot," Matson said. "I'm more interested in it. I enjoy throwing it more."

But then Matson admitted he just might try for an Olympic double at Mexico in 1968 if he continues to improve.

"I'll have to wait and see," he said. "I'll have to throw it (the discus) in world class. I'll have to figure I have a pretty good chance."

on the 16th I couldn't hold a cup of water.

"I told myself a few things then — that I couldn't possibly repeat — and I got my pars although I hit a tree on the 17th with my drive."

Brewer said that he hasn't thought too much about missing the title putt a year ago but he admitted that he may have lacked then the experience needed to win a big championship.

"I think anybody chokes up in certain circumstances, and that was my first major tournament where I was winning," he said.

The victory, which will provide a big bankroll in benefits for the Brewers and their two children, also will broaden the travel of the 36-year-old veteran, who was born in Lexington, Ky., and now lives in Dallas, Tex.

Brewer said he plans now to play in the British Open and probably in some other foreign tournaments if he qualifies.

Three Double Winners in AAU Swim Test

9 American Marks Broken, Indiana Team Is Runnerup

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Mike Burton of the University of Southern California, Mike Spitz of the Santa Clara, Calif., Swim Club and Ken Merten of Southern Methodist University were the only double winners at the three-day National AAU men's swimming meet which produced some surprises.

Burton flashed to victory in the 500 and 1,650-yard freestyle and Spitz splashed home in the 200 and 100-yard butterfly. Merten was the class of the field in the 200 and 100-yard breaststroke events.

The meet didn't end Saturday without a few upsets.

Don Havens, a tall University of Southern California sophomore, upset favored Don Schollander of Yale in the 100-yard freestyle.

Schollander offered no excuses.

"I felt good, but just couldn't get going," he said.

Nine American records were smashed in the 16 events of the meet which was won by the Santa Clara Swim club with 65 points.

Indiana University had 63, losing out when it finished third in the last event, the 800-yard freestyle relay.

Daughter of Bailey Howell Hurt in Fall

4-Year-Old Injured At Home While Celtic Tilt Is On

BOSTON (AP) — The young daughter of Bailey Howell, star forward of the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association, was injured seriously in a fall Sunday while the team met the Philadelphia 76ers in a playoff game.

Mary Beth Howell, 4, was injured when she fell through a second floor window at the family's apartment. The child was taken to Faulkner Hospital and then transferred to The Children's Hospital, where she underwent surgery. She suffered a fractured right leg, a chin cut and internal injuries. A hospital spokesman said her condition was listed as serious, but her name was not on the danger list. Howell scored 17 points before fouling out midway through the final period of the Celtics' 121-117 victory over Philadelphia. He was advised of his daughter's accident while on the bench.

on 13 through 15 and came to that final hole, where he'd blown before, with a one stroke lead over Nichols. Yancey, who had led the first three rounds, and the 47-year-old Boros, had shot themselves out of it by that time.

"I had a lot of things going through my mind," he admitted.

Down the Middle
He laced a beautiful tee shot down the middle of the fairway, then hit a six iron to the green. "I had an easy putt," he said, "of about 20 feet."

But he had to watch nervously while Nichols tried for a 25-foot birdie putt that slid two feet past.

"So I just kind of lagged the putt up there, about 18 inches, then sank it."

Nichols sank it too, for a finishing 70 and 281, one stroke back in second place. Yancey, the 28-year-old former West Pointer, had a closing 73 for 284 and third. Palmer was fourth and Boros fifth with a 75 for 286. Player and Paul Harney shared sixth at 287.

"I played just as well as I could," Nichols said. "I'm not at all ashamed. Gay shot a remarkable round and I'm happy to be second."

Palmer never really got his charge going.

He birdied the 11th and 13 to go two under. "But I missed a 12-foot eagle putt on 15 and a seven foot birdie on 16. If I'd had those, I'd have been five under and they might have been looking over their shoulders."

But they weren't. Neither were the leaders concerned with Ben Hogan, the 54-year-old all-time master who leaped into contention with a remarkable 66 in the third round. His hopes died on three straight bogeys in the early going and he limped in with a 77.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Leaders and money winners Sunday in the final round of the Masters Golf Tournament: Ben Hogan, 54, 66; Gary Player, 29, 67; Arnold Palmer, 36, 68; Bobby Nichols, 41, 69; Sam Snead, 42, 70; and Jack Nicklaus, 21, 71. The 1959 Masters was the 15th annual tournament, and the 11th held at the Augusta National Golf Club. The tournament is the first of four major championships in golf, the others being the U.S. Open, the PGA Championship and the U.S. Amateur. The winner receives a green jacket and a $10,000 prize.

Retiree, 65, Hits 290-707 In ABC Meet
MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Jack Esper of Dearborn, Mich., took first place in regular all-events Sunday at the American Bowling Congress Tournament, but a 65-year-old retiree nearly stole the limelight. Frank Adkins of Lafayette, Ind., a retired maintenance man, fired the best three-game series of the 37-day-old tournament, 290. He started the series with 224, threw the big game and then subsided to 193 for a three-game total of 707. Both the 290 and the 707 were the best scores ever rolled by Adkins in his 30-year bowling career.

BY LEW FERGUSON

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — An 18-man basketball team, which All-America Elvin Hayes of Houston and collegiate scoring ace Earl Monroe of Winston-Salem didn't make, was named Sunday night to represent the United States in this summer's Pan American Games at Winnipeg.

"I believe we've got a winner," Coach Hal Fischer of San Francisco said of the selections. "I think we've got a very fine club."

Named to the team, which assembled at the University of Minnesota July 2 for 20 days of practice before going to Winnipeg for the start of the Pan American Games July 22, were:

Wesley Unseld of Louisville, Sonny Dove of St. John's, Don May of Dayton, Mal Graham of NYU and Jo Jo White of Kansas, who all competed for the NCAA in the three-day, round-robin U. S. trials tournament which wound up Sunday afternoon.

Kendall Rhine and Darel Carrier of Bartlesville, Okla., Jay Miller and Calvin Fowler of Akron and Steve Jones of the Jamaica Saints, who played for the AAU.

Robert Kauffman of Guilford College, Al Tucker of Oklahoma Baptist, Charles Paulk of North-eastern Oklahoma and Henry Logan of Western Carolina, who were members of the NAIA all-star aggregation.

And Mike Silliman and John Clawson of the Army and John Snipes and Mike Barrett of the Navy, who represented the Armed Forces.

Picked as Alternates
Selected as alternates were Dan Anderson, Ray Carey, Jeff Congdon, Jim King and Jim Williams of the AAU and Russ Critchfield of California and the NCAA.

Fischer, who will be assisted by Minnesota's John Kundla, will trim the team to 12 players for the Winnipeg competition.

Notable among those left off the team were Hayes, Monroe and Darius Cunningham of the Army, a former Central, Ohio, State star.

All three missed out in the voting by a 42-member AAU selection committee which included Fischer and the coaches of the NCAA, NAIA, AAU and Armed Forces teams.

"The committee had to look at the ballplayers as they saw them here," Fischer said. "Hayes did not show any great talent to be in the top 18."

"After seeing the statistics on Hayes, I can easily see that he did not have a good tournament."

I saw him in the NCAA tournament, however, and I know he's a great player.

"On Monroe, I don't know why he didn't get more votes. I'd say he is a real fine player; there's no question of his ability. I know he had quite a few mistakes against his name on the statistics sheet."

"I thought Cunningham was a fine ballplayer, but you can't pick them all."

Monroe was the trials tournament's leading scorer with 62 points in three games. He also led the nation's college scorers with this season with a 41.5 average. Hayes scored 30 points and got

Louis, Kansas City and California will be played at night.

The exhibition season wound up Sunday with San Francisco capturing the mythical National League crown on a 17-9 record and Chicago taking the American League with 16-10. Both finished with victories, the Giants nipping California 7-5 and the White Sox downing the Chicago Cubs 6-3.

The New York Mets, who spent the spring avenging the National League against the Orioles, beat Baltimore for the fourth time, rallying for five ninth-inning runs and a 5-4 victory.

Socks Double
Kansas City rallied for three runs in the ninth with Jim Goss's double driving in the winner for a 3-2 victory over Los Angeles.

Bob Allison's two-run homer in the 10th inning gave Minnesota a 7-5 victory over Atlanta.

Detroit nipped Boston 4-3 with Gates Brown's 10th-inning single delivering the winning run.

Bernie Allen drove in three runs with a single and triple, leading Washington to an 8-5 victory over St. Louis.

Sonny Siebert, George Culver and Dick Radatz combined for a two-hitter as Cleveland nipped Cincinnati 2-1. Billy McCool was the loser — his sixth setback this spring.

Charley Smith had a three-run shot for the New York Yankees who routed Houston 9-4.

In Last 14 Minutes
Monroe scored 22 of his 26 points in the crucial last 14 minutes to lead the NAIA to a 77-71 victory over the Armed Forces Sunday. That gave the underdog NAIA the team championship. Barrett, the meet's No. 2 scorer with 57 points, got 17 in the finale.

The NCAA wound up third despite a 92-65 drubbing by the AAU in Sunday's windup. Miller, third high in the tourney with 55 points, led the AAU with this season with a 41.5 average. Hayes scored 30 points and got

New Treasury Notes Have Good Interest

BY SYLVIA PORTER

When the Treasury's new "Freedom Shares" go on sale for the first time three weeks from today, May 1, they'll be a much more attractive medium for your long-term savings than the Treasury planned or competitive thrift institutions anticipated as recently as 60 days ago.

note earlier than maturity, you'll earn much less. An E bond pays you only 3.01 per cent if you redeem it after one year; the new note is not redeemable for a full year and then if cashed, it pays you 4.01 per cent.

But interest rates are now heading down across the board. A real question is for how long a time the financial institutions offering you the rich rates today will pledge to continue paying them.

This is the area in which the E bond and savings note are making headway, for the Treasury guarantees to pay you the 4.15 per cent and 4.74 per cent for the lives of the securities. It also permits you to postpone paying federal income tax on the interest accumulated until you actually redeem your bonds and notes. (Both are exempt from state and local taxes too.)

May 1 marks the kickoff date for 1967's "Share in Freedom" savings bond drive, with war and patriotism themes. Although about 9,000,000 of us already are enrolled under payroll savings or bond-a-month plans, the target for this year is to sign up one out of every two employees not buying bonds regularly under payroll savings plans and to obtain increased purchases from one out of two employees now under the plans.

The E bond is a familiar savings medium, though. The rattle-dazzle lies in the new note. Here are some major facts.

Must Sign Up
You'll be able to buy the notes only if you are already buying E bonds regularly under a payroll savings or bond-a-month plan or if you now sign up under either.

You will be limited in your purchases to a maximum of $81 a month. This $81 will bring you $100 a maturity in 4½ years.

There is an annual limit on your holdings too: $1,350 face amount of notes originally issued in any one year.

You will get an overall net return of 4.39 per cent if you hold your E bonds and notes to their full maturities. You will earn a net of 4.58 per cent if

Village Scouts Plan Sale of Signal Flares

LITTLE CHUTE — Boy Scout troop, sponsored by the American Legion, will sell signal flares in a community door-to-door campaign Thursday.

Money raised by the Scouts will be utilized for camping expenses or equipment for the troop and at the same time it is hoped the flares will help reduce traffic accidents. Using the theme, "A Flare With Every Spare," Scouts are appealing to friends and neighbors to carry safety flares in their auto trunk with their spare tire.

Recommended by the National Safety Council and used by state highway patrols and local police, the flares provide an emergency signal that enables the stranded or stopped motorist on the highway to warn oncoming traffic.

Flares burn for 15 minutes, give off a bright, penetrating red light and are safe and easy to store. Special price for the flares will be three for $1.25.

Police Investigate Vandalism to Signs

KAUKAUNA — Police are investigating vandalism to four highway markers on State Highway 96 which took place sometime Friday night or early Saturday.

The 4 by 4 wooden poles holding the markers were snapped off and a piece of concrete curb broken off, leading police to believe the damage may have been done with a car.

you cash in your E bonds after their required two-month holding period and hold your notes for 4½ years.

Because of the severe limits on purchases and holdings of the notes and because other interest rates are obviously more than competitive, there is no danger of any massive outflow of funds from savings institutions to these Treasury securities.

But if you decide to discipline yourself into systematic saving of some of your new funds via U. S. savings bonds and notes, you will be getting historically high interest from the U. S. Government, interest guaranteed for the life of your securities and non-taxable until you cash in.

Convocation Address

Theatre Violence Cited By Lawrence Professor

Contemporary theatre lies prey to a violence "without substance" which can exploit it "vulgarily and without moral sensitivity." We must therefore remember the theatre artist "can transmute meaningful violence into significant action — even into tragic action — and from the tragic can come joy and understanding."

F. Theodore Cloak, professor and chairman of the department of Theatre and Drama at Lawrence University, gave this view of the modern theatre in a convocation address to 1,100 students, faculty and townspeople Thursday at Memorial Chapel.

Cloak, a veteran of 45 years in the theatre, expressed his "everlasting concern for the theatre, and a disturbance about the violence which is an obvious ingredient in the drama today."

Speaking on the theme, "How Violent Can You Get?" he emphasized that the important approach to contemporary theatre is to understand "the sources" of violence, and to learn how to control them responsibly.

Not New
Cloak said that violence in the theatre and drama is no new phenomenon.

But, he said, "I'm concerned, I'm disturbed" over the dangers inherent in the new writing and production techniques because of their frequent failure "to make a statement about anything significant."

He said that he became aware of a change taking place in drama about 12 years ago. This "new impulse," he said, came

Youth Fined On 3 Counts

Judge Dismisses Charge of Leaving Scene After Mishap

An 18-year-old Appleton youth paid fines totaling $225 Friday afternoon on three charges brought by Appleton police.

Terrence Cavins, 610 N. Owaissa St., who appeared in Outagamie County Court, Branch 2, was fined $175 and costs or 60 days in jail for driving while under the influence of intoxicants, $25 and costs for driving without a license, and another $25 and costs for disorderly conduct.

Appearing with his attorney and his mother, Cavins pleaded guilty to the two traffic counts and no contest to the disorderly charge. County Judge Gustave J. Keller found him guilty on the last count.

The traffic charges were brought after Cavins was involved in an accident in the 1300 block of E. Wisconsin Avenue Sept. 19. He had pleaded innocent. Police also had charged him with leaving the scene of an accident, in connection with the Sept. 19 mishap, but Judge Keller dismissed that charge Friday at the request of the city attorney's office.

The disorderly conduct count stemmed from what police said was an apparent attempt by Cavins and William L. Thirion, 22, 120 McKinley St., Kaukauna, to enter a parked car at the home of J. A. Dougherty, 1313 E. Amelia St., about 1:20 a.m. March 27. They were caught after a chase by police.

Thirion pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct last week and was fined $100 and costs or 48 days in jail.

Rehl plans to use his summer grant to do research on European editions of piano music, including publications of standard repertory, of Baroque and pre-Baroque music and of contemporary music. He will work in Germany, Austria and eastern Europe.

During the academic year Rehl will study in Munich with the pianists Friedrich Wuehrer,

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincerest thanks and appreciation for the many kindnesses showered upon us by friends (and some we may have thought otherwise), neighbors and relatives during the recent illness and bereavement of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. Lucille Pocan.

The Brown Funeral Chapel for the same kindness and help we previously received.

Dr. James Laird for all the help he gave our Mom now and over the years. For his part in giving us something to remember her with and help keep us together.

Merle Wendt, who built the home to try and make things easier for her and which she loved so much. We wish she could have enjoyed it much longer.

The Gilbert Paper Co., who have so generously rearranged my working hours so I can try and give our 5-year-old daughter a better life.

My sister-in-law, Eleanor Hickey, as she took care of most of the arrangements. I don't know what I would have done without her.

I would also like to thank the many who offered to help with our 5-year-old daughter. I feel I have to try to do this myself as we were all so close and I don't feel anyone can take her mother's place. Her big brother and I are going to and do our best. Thanks again to everyone.

Several special features were worked into the program to emphasize the anniversary, which Huber said has set a yardstick for other credit agencies to provide long-term, low-rate interest for family farmers. "As farmers substitute more capital for labor, this kind of interest becomes more important all the time," he added.

Kenosha County has agreed to acquire a 700-acre site near the Kenosha-Racine county line. Olson's bill stems from reaction to a discovery by Kenosha County residents that the purchase could cost $2 million.

Dark Spots

He pointed out that "we have emptied the government warehouses; we are selling the bin sites, and our exports have doubled since 1960, with one acre of crop production in four going overseas."

Although farm income has improved due to the improved

Cancer Society Leader Sees Discovery of Cause, Cure

The forecast of a medical utopia "within our lifetime" of discovery of the causes and cure of cancer was made by Francis J. Wilcox, Eau Claire, 1966 chairman of the National Board of the American Cancer Society, Friday as the Outagamie County unit opened its 1967 crusade at a dinner at Reetz's Supper Club. The Outagamie goal is $23,000.

While optimistic about the eventual success of the campaign, Wilcox stressed the importance of the involvement of local people to save lives now.

Statistics indicate that the No. 2 killer will cause 305,000 deaths in the nation this year, 65,000 in the state and 151 in Outagamie County, the speaker said. "If a flood or the collapse of a building killed 151 people the populace would be aroused to make certain such an incident would not happen again," Wilcox said.

Necessary Action

"You're doing something about it," he told the volunteer workers and committee chairmen. At the present rate, one out of every four persons will get cancer but it can be cured if caught in time, he emphasized. Early detection would result in the saving of 40 lives in Outagamie County, he indicated.

While admitting that raising of funds was vital, he maintained that two million volunteers talking to 20 million persons as they collected funds would save lives through education. "We have no monopoly on brains, facilities, money or dedication. We have the volunteers who have put us 25 years ahead of other nations."

Cancer society fund expenditures are divided into a minimum of 25 per cent for research (actually it was 34 per cent last year), 24 per cent for education, 20 per cent for service, 8 per cent for fund raising and 10 per cent for administration. The society does not expend funds for bricks or mortar, patient care bills and only a limited drug program.

Three Theories

Research is following three major theories: 1. A virus is the cause of cancer and a

Bill Proposed to Cut Commission Bonding

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Trouble ahead for the state building corporations which are providing multi-million dollar state institution building programs with borrowed money is forecast with the sponsorship of a bill that would virtually cut off their borrowing powers.

Sponsors of the measure include Assemblyman Byron Wackett of Watertown, chairman of the assembly wing of the legislature's joint finance committee, who probably reflects the views of the Republican majority leadership of the house which gave him his ranking position.

Limit Bonding

The corporations have been using during a period of many years to circumvent the 120-year-old prohibition in the state constitution against the issuance of bonds directly by the state. Without the "dummy" corporation bonds, the state could not have expanded its educational and welfare institutions to their present dimensions.

The measure offered by Wackett and other conservative members of the Assembly would limit total state corporation bond issues to $350 million. The current total of such indebtedness is only a few hundred thousands of dollars short of that sum.

Doubts about the validity of the corporation method of borrowing have spread in recent years, as the issue has been debated in political campaigns and elsewhere.

Pending in the legislature is a measure that would amend the state constitution to permit direct state bonding under legislative control. But the measure has been stalled on technical points, and it is not now certain that it can be put through to permit an early vote of the people on the question. Meanwhile the pending state budget makes provision for continued borrowing of up to $100 million during the next two-year period.

Thailand Base Receives First Of U. S. B52s

Sharp Increase
Ground Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — The first wave of three B52 bombers to be based in Thailand arrived there today from Guam after dropping 180,000 pounds of bombs on a suspected Communist camp only 31 miles from Saigon.

Nine more B52s will move to Utopia Air Base, in southern Thailand, later this month, cutting their round trip time for raids on South Vietnam from 12 hours to less than three.

The U.S. Command reported a sharp increase in ground actions throughout Vietnam with 315 enemy killed Sunday. Included was a sharp barrage of recoilless rifle shells on the U.S. 25th Infantry Division headquarters at Cu Chi, about 25 miles northwest of Saigon. The predawn shelling, which killed three American soldiers and wounded 20, was the second in two days. The helicopter-borne U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division headquarters at An Khe was hit Sunday.

American pilots flew 96 missions over North Vietnam Sunday despite bad weather. All-weather jets hit the Thai Nguyen steel plant 35 miles from Hanoi and other raids struck anti-aircraft missile sites 30 miles from the Red capital.

Major Red Force
Heavy ground fighting raged 20 miles southwest of Saigon after U.S. 9th Division soldiers flushed a major force of Viet Cong guerrillas in a running two-day fight. Battlefield reports listed 166 Viet Cong dead from infantry, air and artillery pounding.

The battle erupted Sunday when a 9th Division sweeping force ran into skirmishes of a 750-man guerrilla battalion. Air strikes and artillery began pounding the Reds, who scattered with units of the 9th in pursuit. Heavy fighting was reported several times throughout Sunday night and this morning.

Continuing the sweep in the muddy delta paddies, the 9th Division reported it was again in heavy contact this afternoon, with jet strikes and artillery again pouring in.

16 Wounded
Initial battle reports from the 9th listed 16 U.S. infantrymen wounded in the battle.

The Irving Zuelke Building, 103 W. College Ave., Appleton, has been purchased by a new firm, the Plaza Corp., whose members are six area businessmen. The sale was announced today by Norman W. Hall, Inc., Appleton realtors. The Hall firm will manage the building. Sale price was not announced.

Zuelke Bldg. Changes Hands

Six area businessmen, members of the new Plaza Corp., have purchased the Irving Zuelke Building, 103 W. College Ave., Appleton, for an undisclosed sum, according to Norman W. Hall, president of the Norm W. Hall Co., Inc., Appleton realty firm.

The purchase agreement was signed Saturday, Hall said. The building formerly was owned and managed by the Irving Zuelke Building Inc.

Hall and Frank Gutreuter, vice president of the realty firm, said they would assume management of the structure immediately. The Hall company acted as rental agency for the building's tenants for the past 18 months.

They said the sale would be carried out without interruption of the building's operations or services. Plaza Corp. officers are Dr. Herman C. Schmallerberg, New London, president; Jack G. Temmer, Appleton, vice president; Gutreuter, secretary, and Hall, treasurer.

"The new owners and management plan to keep pace with general improvement and upgrading of the downtown area," Hall said. "We have great confidence in the growth and development of Appleton and particularly the downtown area."

Hall said, "The building itself is a very sound structure and lends itself very well to providing modern facilities for its tenants. With the new Soldiers Square parking ramp," he continued, "the former parking problem will certainly be alleviated, not only for this building but for all downtown businesses."

Officials of the realty firm said the ground floor would continue as a retail sales area. Approximately 20 persons are employed as engineers, elevator operators or maintenance personnel.

Miss Florette Zuelke took over management of the building in August, 1964, from Mrs. Lola May Zuelke Eich. Mrs. Eich was manager from 1963 to 1964, succeeding Mrs. Cordell Zuelke Gallagher, who managed the building from 1953 to 1963. The women are daughters of the late Irving Zuelke, who died in 1953. Zuelke's widow lives at 600 River Road.

Finished in 1931

The first seven stories of the building were completed in 1931 by Zuelke, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Zuelke, Hortonville. Zuelke was born in Hortonville and moved to Appleton in 1913 to establish a music business on College Avenue.

A spectacular fire in 1928 destroyed the music store on present Zuelke Building site. Construction on the new building began May 12, 1929 and was completed two years later.

Five floors were added in 1951, bringing the building to its 12-story height.

Hall indicated the building would "keep pace" with modernization of the city's downtown area. "We are desirous of maintaining the building as one of the most attractive buildings in Appleton," he said.

No plans were announced for any immediate remodeling or modernizing of the building.

Marathon County Crash Kills Four

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Four persons were killed Sunday in a head-on crash at the crest of a Marathon County hill on State 107 about 20 miles northwest of Wausau and a fifth died early today after a crash in Dodge County.

Sgt. William Schuett of the Marathon sheriff's department said the victims were Gustave Munkwitz, 68, rural Elcho, his wife, Katherine, 55, his brother Herman Munkwitz, 68 of Edgar, and Donald Duwe, 18, rural Hamburg.

Schuett said Gustave Munkwitz was the driver of one of the autos and Duwe was alone in the other. Herman Munkwitz was pronounced dead on the scene — near the village of Little Chicago.

The man who died today in a Hartford hospital shortly after his car collided with another car in the Village of Neosho, Dodge County, was not immediately identified.

Mediators Reach Radio-TV Accord

Union Vote Due Today On Contract

NEW YORK (AP) — Negotiators reached tentative settlement today in the nation's first radio and television strike that put celebrities on picket lines and programming on a schedule of old films and reruns. The strike began March 29.

Terms of the agreement between the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists and ABC, CBS and NBC were not revealed pending a union vote, but shirt-sleeved bargainers laughed and shook hands as the settlement was announced at 6 a.m. today after a session that began at 11 a.m. Sunday.

Pickets still walked outside NBC at Rockefeller Center in New York City, however, and mediators would not say if the lines would be withdrawn. "The strike is still on," one picket said.

The 5 p.m. meeting here will involve members of the eastern section of the union's three-part national board. Midwest and west coast sections also were to meet, in Chicago and Los Angeles.

A spokesman said it might take two days to get approval from the rank and file, but it was possible that pickets could be recalled — clearing the way for telecasting the academy award show — if the national board units recommend acceptance.

One immediate question was whether Hollywood's Motion Picture Academy award show would be televised by ABC tonight. It was scheduled for 10 p.m. EST, and the network said after the tentative settlement was announced that it was "fully rehearsed" and prepared to present the performance "once the go-ahead signal is given by AFTRA."

Meeting Today
A union official said strikers had been called to a meeting at 5 p.m. EST, presumably to vote on ratifying the settlement.

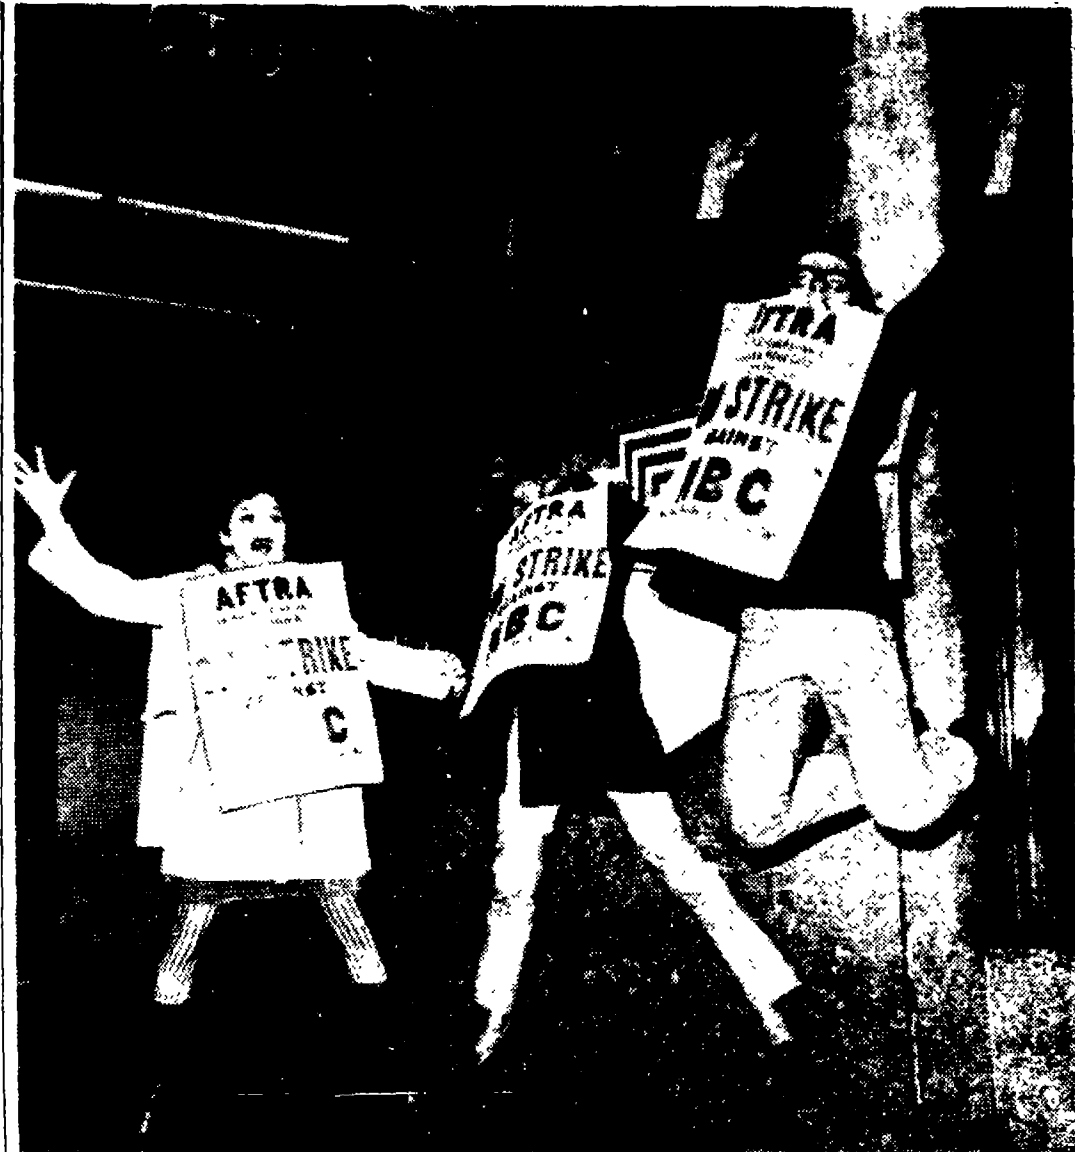

"The picket line will remain in effect until the vote is taken," the official said.

Observers said a break in the talks came at 3 a.m. when the parties met jointly with federal mediator Ralph C. Patterson. They talked for an hour and 20 minutes then separated with a network spokesman, announcing: "The union people will call us when they want us."

4 North Koreans Killed in Clash

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — South Korean army patrols shot and killed four North Koreans in two gun fights on the western front today, army headquarters announced.

Both border clashes occurred within 20 miles of the gunfight last Wednesday in which U.S. 2nd Infantry Division troops killed at least four North Koreans, an army spokesman said. There was no immediate report of any South Korean casualties in the incidents today.

Pickets on Duty at the National Broadcasting Co. headquarters in New York City jump with enthusiasm when they hear of a tentative settlement of the 13-day strike of broadcast performers this morning. The end of the strike

Labor Dispute Closes Doors

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The highly industrialized Fox Valley — one of Wisconsin's major over-the-road transportation hubs — braced today for the impact of a nationwide lockout of truck drivers.

Hundreds of trucking firms embroiled in a labor dispute with the Teamsters Union closed their doors coast-to-coast and vowed not to let a single cross-country truck on the road today.

Predictions were it might take about a week before the full effects would show up.

Industries and major retail outlets throughout the Valley will be hardest hit if the shutdown is of any duration. About 1,500 union drivers from Fond du Lac to Green Bay reported for work this morning but were told to go home.

Robert Schlieve, secretary-treasurer of Teamsters Local 563, said more than 500 drivers in the Fox Cities were idled.

All Shut Down
Thomas J. Duffey, general manager of the Wisconsin Motor Carrier Labor Advisory Council, said all of the council's 70 members were shut down, estimating they normally handle about 75 per cent of the cross-state and interstate business in Wisconsin.

Roy C. Lane, president of Teamsters Local 200 in Milwaukee, the state's largest local, said he thought about 4,500 of Wisconsin's 8,000 teamsters were locked out.

Lane said about 65 firms would lock out workers in the state, but another 40 independent firms will continue operating.

Among the major firms with terminals in the Fox Valley participating in the National Trucking Employees, Inc., lockout were Consolidated Freightways, Menlo Park, Calif.; Olson

Transportation, Green Bay; Gateway Transportation, La Crosse; Central Wisconsin Transport, Wisconsin Rapids, and Spector Freight Systems, Inc., Green Bay.

The Appleton terminal manager for Fore Way Express Co., Inc., reported about 25 per cent of the drivers were at work today, adding that a good share of the firm's operations were down.

Praised by President

Humphrey Welcomed On Return From Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson welcomed Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey home today from a turbulent tour of Europe, and said Humphrey had told American allies there that "the ancient world of Asia" must share in the progress of the West.

Before government leaders arrayed on the south lawn of the White House, Johnson said Humphrey has been "the authentic voice of America in the council halls of our European allies."

He said Humphrey had told European leaders: "... America is still the daughter of Europe."

Johnson did not directly mention the war in Vietnam — which produced demonstrations that swirled in some European capitals during the Humphrey tour.

He said Humphrey had told European leaders "peace, like freedom, is indivisible," and that the nations of the West cannot hope to fulfill their dreams and ambitions until Asia has become a full and equal party in the forward movement of men. "You have been more than America's spokesman," Johnson said. "You have also been America's eyes and ears."

Humphrey feels his two-week, seven-nation tour reassured European leaders that the United States is not turning its back on Europe despite its concerns in Asia.

Some observers believe he may urge President Johnson to make a similar trip. The vice president is understood to believe such visits improve personal relations between leaders who otherwise have to conduct their dealings through ambassadors and cables.

Shouting demonstrators threw things at him in Brussels, Rome, Florence, West Berlin and Paris but never hit him. The demonstrating groups were generally small.

Summing up before his departure from Brussels, Humphrey said:

"My visits here and to other Western European capitals have confirmed my belief that the enterprise and undertakings which unite Europe and the United States are of vastly greater importance than the minor differences which sometimes distract us."

Common Market Already Approved

Opening Hinted for U.S.-Latin Markets

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) The United States, besieged by clamor for bigger Latin shares of U.S. markets, left the door open a crack today, with the hint that President Johnson may offer this gift at the summit.

While refusing to open a special door through U.S. trade barriers, Secretary of State Dean Rusk did agree after 11 wearing hours of bargaining in a presummit conference to permit Alliance for Progress dollars to be spent outside the United States.

Rusk insisted to his tired colleagues, however, that this could be done only "to the maximum extent consistent with the balance of payment position of the capital exporting countries."

Protective Wall
The possibility that President Johnson might breach the protective wall around U.S. markets for the Latin Americans could be read between the words of U.S. official sources.

One such top source two days ago said in answer to a reporter's question about Latin trade preference "I don't think I ought to scoop the President."

ment stood as a major concession by Rusk.

Earlier, a U.S. official source said alliance dollars could be spent only for U.S. goods and services "because of the balance of payments."

The United States gave in after foreign ministers of the hemisphere harped in speech after speech on the need for preferential entry into U.S. markets by Latin products and commodities.

Rusk hoped his alliance spending back-up might stem

Further Delay Likely for Space Program

Apollo Study Discloses 'Unbelievable' Flaws

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America's man-to-the-moon program faced further delay today to allow time to overcome workmanship and management deficiencies revealed in a blue-ribbon board's final report on the spacecraft that killed three U.S. astronauts.

The eight-man board which spent seven weeks in an exhaustive investigation of the Apollo 1 tragedy said it uncovered "many deficiencies in design and engineering, manufacture and quality control."

Major Overhaul
The report recommended a major overhaul of Apollo spacecraft, including a quick-escape hatch, fewer combustible items inside the moonship, and a review of components in Apollo electrical, communications and life-support systems.

House and Senate Space Committee members said the National Aeronautics Space Administration and its contractors should take time to correct the ills.

"These deficiencies must be catalogued and corrected and must not be repeated," said Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., chairman of the Senate Aeronautical and Space Sciences Committee.

Much 'Carelessness'
Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., whose subcommittee on NASA oversight begins its own Apollo 1 investigation today, said "there were all kinds of carelessness, and some of it was unbelievable."

The Apollo 1 board-of-review said in its final report released Sunday that a bruised or broken wire most likely sparked the blaze that killed Air Force Lt. Col. Virgil I. Grissom and Edward H. White II and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Roger B. Chaffee in a launch pad test Jan. 27.

While "no single ignition source could be conclusively identified," the report said the probable cause was "either an electrical arc or short circuit in 'DC (direct current) wiring... providing power to environmental control system instrumentation."

An electrical arc is a band of sparks between two closely placed electrical sources, such as open ends of a broken or bruised wire.

Beneath Couch
In its 3,000-page final report, the board said the fire is believed to have started in the left-hand equipment bay, beneath Grissom's couch, where the suspected wiring was located.

The board, headed by Dr. Floyd L. Thompson of NASA's Langley Research Center, said it found numerous examples of spacecraft wiring which had been poorly designed and installed in Apollo 1.

The board released a picture showing a wrench socket that had been inadvertently left wedged among several cables in the area where the fire is believed to have started. The board did not link the socket to the blaze, however.

It also said no evidence was discovered that suggested sabotage.

"Deficiencies in design, manufacture, installation, rework and quality control existed in the electrical wiring," the board said.

Components in the life-supporting environmental control system — which provided the astronauts with oxygen — "had a history of many removals and of technical difficulties," the board observed.

Deficiencies in these spacecraft systems "created a hazardous condition and their continuation would imperil any future Apollo operations," the report stated.

Conditions cited by the board which contributed to the fire included a sealed cabin pressurized with 100 per cent oxygen, extensive distribution of combustible materials, vulnerable wiring carrying spacecraft power, and vulnerable plumbing carrying a combustible and corrosive coolant.

The board also cited inad-
